No! Rita can't really be leaving the Kabin, can she? We won't allow it! However... if you think about it, Rita is in her 80s, and has been getting up at the crack of dawn every morning of the week to do the papers. Okay, we know that

Gemma supposedly helps too, but she already has two jobs – the kebab shop in the day and the Rovers at night – so we don't exactly see her leaping from bed at 5.45am to help Reet sort out Roy's Trainspotters Monthly and Ken's Guardian!

So maybe Brian and Cathy are the shop's future? After all, the Kabin loves a good double-act, and that's been sadly missing ever since Norris went mountain trekking or whatever with Emily. Plus, Cathy is a great character who's woefully underused. As long as Rita is still ordering a vodka tonic in the Rovers, while dishing out advice with liberal use of the word 'lady', than maybe I can just about live with this change...

Shona betrays David!

CORONATION STREET | ITV WEDNESDAY

SHE FACES THE WRATH OF THE PLATTS WHEN SHE VISITS HER KILLER SON...

Clayton is keen to escape jail – and so he attempts to manipulate Shona

Shona is faced with a tough decision this week, as she visits her son Clayton in jail to break the news that his dad has died from an overdose – without telling her partner David that she's gone.

But this sudden bereavement turns out to be the very least of Clayton's concerns, as he confesses to his mother that his life is in danger thanks to vicious prison bullies – and makes a desperate plea for her to get him out of there!

With David oblivious to the fact that Shona's spending time with the thug who killed his late wife Kylie, though, can Shona do as her son asks?

"Shona's not seen Clayton for quite some time, and she finds him in a complete and utter mess," explains Julia Goulding, who plays Shona. "It's heartbreaking for her to witness. She needs to break the news to him that his father has died, and it's not an easy job. She just has to get to her baby, and she wants to do anything she can to help him..."

It turns out that Clayton already knows about his dad's death, but he wastes no time in informing Shona that he's being bullied, and wants her to help him move to an open prison. The development leaves Shona in a tricky predicament – knowing that there's nothing she can do for Clayton without being honest with David first.

"She's worried about having to tell David that she's been to visit Clayton," says Julia. "They have a rule that they don't talk about what happened between Kylie and Clayton. So while Shona does keep in contact with Clayton, it isn't ever

“Clayton is a complete mess – it's so tough for Shona to witness”

Nick makes it clear that he's not happy with his brother's girlfriend discussed between her and David.

"There's a betrayal with David at stake here, if she does keep this situation with Clayton secret – and that's on Shona's mind."

Knowing she has no choice but to come clean, Shona confesses to David on her return to the Street. And it's not long before David's brother Nick wades in, leaving Shona in no doubt concerning his feelings on the matter.

"Nick is massively confrontational," sighs Julia. "He doesn't really like Shona and she doesn't particularly like him, because he let David down. So there's not a lot of love lost there, and I think Nick probably relishes the fact that Shona is facing this dilemma."

Nick and David's sexism infuriates Leanne and Shona...

Thankfully, there are some lighter moments for stressed Shona this week, as she and Leanne are outraged to learn that Nick and David plan on engaging 'hot' ladies to work at their new salon, to lure in male customers.

Understandably appalled by this blatant chauvinism, the girls plan revenge! While the brothers prepare to interview a string of gorgeous girls, they're stunned to realise that one of them, Andrea, is actually an Italian man. But will Nick and David listen to Leanne and Shona, as they insist that Andrea is the one to hire?

Will Nick and David do as they're told?

After consulting lawyer Imran, who reveals that he doesn't hold out much hope concerning Clayton's bid to move prisons, Shona heads back to see her son...

"Clayton spits out his dummy when she tells him she can't help him," admits Julia. "He uses every method he can, knowing that she loves him, to change her mind. He comes up with a new plan – and while Shona doesn't want to consider it, his life being in danger means she's torn."

As Shona deliberates over what she ought to do next,

David insists to Nick that he's not angry with his girlfriend, but frustrated with himself because he can't help her. And after Nick says sorry to Shona, she decides there's just no way that she can get involved with Clayton's drastic scheme.

However, as David and Shona head upstairs to bed, an intruder is picking the lock on their back door. So is it already too late for Shona to extricate herself from what Clayton is planning?

Shona appears shocked – although is she in fact involved in the plot?

While Shona is tied up in knots over Clayton's predicament, things are set to take a very dramatic turn in the coming weeks – after Clayton makes a bold move just as his dad is being laid to rest!

Our striking pictures reveal that being handcuffed to a burly prison guard won't hold Clayton back – and in shocking scenes, he ends up using the distraction of his father's burial to make a daring escape!

There's quite the scuffle when Clayton tries to leg it, with his mum Shona and her close friend Billy dragged into the fray while violent chaos descends. But the pair aren't the only ones embroiled as the assembled mourners wade in, and the situation kicks right off!

In the midst of the turmoil, unfettered Clayton can be seen sprinting into the distance. However, after police officers take control, distressed-looking Shona is bundled into a cop car – but why? Is she part of her son's escape plan, and could she be jailed as Clayton makes his bid for freedom?

EMMERDALE | ITV THURSDAY

Maya's fall from grace!

TERRIFIED THAT JACOB WILL REVEAL THEIR SECRET, SHE TRIES TO FLEE THE VILLAGE – BUT DISASTER STRIKES...

Jacob finally breaks free of Maya's twisted hold over him this week – sending his predatory teacher into absolute meltdown!

After she meddles in his new relationship with Liv, Jacob warns Maya in no uncertain terms to back off, or he'll tell David all about their affair. Realising she has lost control over Jacob, Maya frets and attempts to make a hasty exit from the village – until a nasty accident stops her...

"What Maya experiences is pure, uncontrolled panic," explains actress Louisa Clein, who plays her. "Her relationship with Jacob is about control and not being challenged. He's young, he adores her, he looks up to her – and she's his teacher as well, so there's a sense of authority and power for her. Suddenly, when he gravitates towards Liv, Maya is losing that control, and she is being challenged. She panics."

The drama unfolds as Jacob continues to grow closer to Liv, and Maya struggles to contain her jealousy. After she spots the teens enter Mill Cottage together, Maya purposefully 'lets slip' to Aaron and Robert that Liv is home alone with Jacob, prompting her protective older brother to burst in on the pair and throw Jacob out!

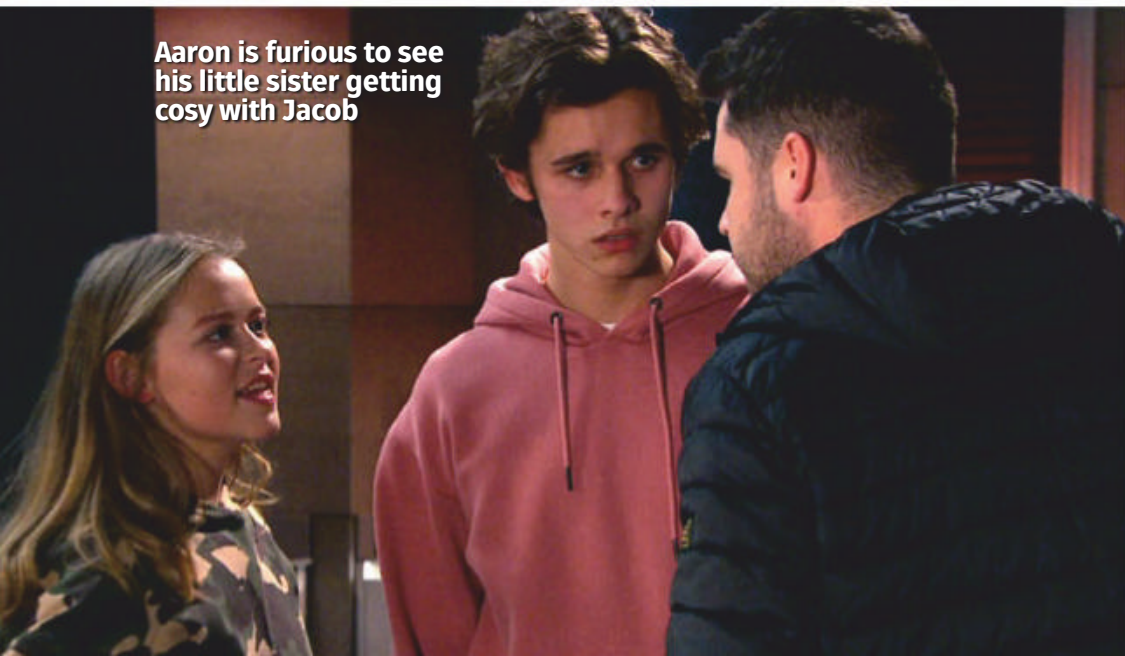

However, the next day Jacob and Maya are sharing a moment when Aaron interrupts them, and it becomes clear that she set up Jacob and Liv to be caught.

"I'm not sure Jacob even realises the extent of Maya's

Jacob realises that Maya deliberately stitched him up

Aaron is furious to see his little sister getting cosy with Jacob manipulation at this point," ventures Louisa. "I think he is utterly and emotionally invested in her, while living with this day-to-day confusion as a result of her playing him. One minute she is saying, 'I want to be with you', and the next she is telling him to be with Liv and cover up their affair. It's like a game of cat and mouse, and he doesn't know what to do."

“Maya's decision to leave is out of pure fear – she panics!”

Furious, Jacob tells Maya to stay away from him for good

Aaron demands that Jacob leave

“People are horrified by this story!”

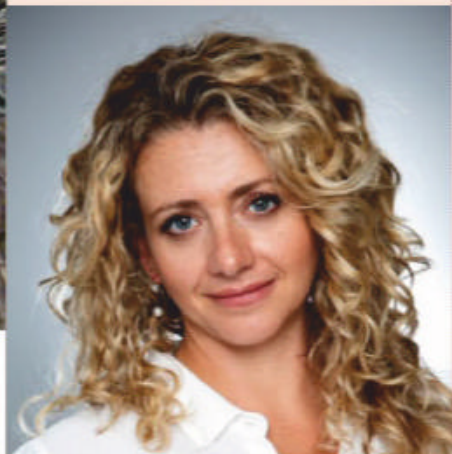

Maya’s behaviour has provoked a strong reaction, explains Louisa...

Maya’s sick grooming of Jacob has made for uncomfortable viewing – but Louisa is pleased the story is having such a huge impact.

“There’s been a strong reaction, which is good,” asserts the actress.

“People are horrified by the story – they find it extremely uncomfortable, and that’s a good thing. We don’t want it to be romantic, and we don’t want it to be titillating.

“I’m getting a lot of encouragement and support from some viewers as well, who say that Emmerdale is doing an amazing job at telling this story. That’s the beauty of the soap – we can reach an enormous audience.”

That’s not to say that Jacob isn’t absolutely furious with Maya’s actions, however – and when he finally snaps, he threatens to tell David, sparking her perilous attempt to flee the Dales.

“Maya’s decision to leave is out of pure fear,” says Louisa. “It’s not thought through – it’s utterly impulsive and cowardly. I think she just can’t face it and is so frightened. There are moments of reality hitting Maya, as she realises what she’s done and the possible repercussions of her actions. So she’s running away.

“In her panicked state, Maya is trying to pull her suitcase from the top of a cupboard, when it flings back and she falls with it,” continues the star. “The audience won’t know at this point what the damage is, but she hits her head and there is certainly blood. Maya has also put her foot through the chair and has hurt her ankle – so she is not going anywhere.”

If Maya survives her fall, and Jacob has spilled the beans to David, will she be forced to account for her actions? Or will it transpire that her injuries are so severe that Maya takes her sordid secret to the grave?

Mel turns to Phil!

Hunter has a taste for blood – but Mel knows they need to escape

AS THE POLICE START SNIFFING AROUND, SHE PLANS TO FLEE – BUT SHE CAN'T DO IT ALONE...

EASTENDERS | BBC1 MONDAY

Horrified Mel is left desperate after she finds the police in her house this week.

And as blind panic sets in, she persuades son Hunter they have to flee Walford, but she needs some help – and ends up embroiling Phil and Sharon in her plans!

The officers tell her that they've received complaints from Ray's wives Maddie and Nicola about threats made by her son Hunter, and they want answers. Following weeks of frantically trying to cope with the consequences of Ray's shocking murder, Mel is worried that Hunter is a danger to himself and others. Can she protect him and keep them both out of prison?

"Mel made a big mistake by covering up what happened to Ray, and she has no idea just how disturbed Hunter is," warns our Walford spy. "Far from being destroyed by killing Ray, Hunter is thriving on it. He's clearly inherited plenty of his dad Steve Owen's worst traits, and it looks as if he's possibly a psychopath!"

It's no wonder, then, that Hunter is less than impressed as Mel explains that the time has come to confess. She can't cope with the guilt and the pressure of keeping it together when people are asking lots of difficult questions. She starts by writing down everything that happened on New Year's Day – detailing her violent confrontation with Ray before the wedding, as well as the events in the woods. But once she's ready to take the evidence to the police, she can't find her son, and more trouble arrives when Maddie shows up.

Understandably, Maddie wants to know where all they have to move away from the Square to have any hope of a future. She's right about that, but Hunter isn't going to be easy to control!"

Now that she's chosen to flee, Mel needs money, so she goes to the only person she knows who can get his hands on serious cash – Phil. She wants to sell him back her share of the club and take the money and run. The trouble is that Phil won't make this easy for her, and Hunter will stir the pot too. So it looks as though Mel has a fight on her hands if she wants to escape with her freedom and her son...

SHOULD MEL GO FREE?

INSIDE SOAP'S Kate White
"MEL'S NOT TO BLAME..."

THERE'S NO WAY THAT MEL SHOULD GO down for Ray's murder – she's an innocent woman. Okay, she covered up the crime in order to save her son, but what mother wouldn't do anything to protect their child? Ray was a nasty piece of work and he repeatedly attempted to kill her, and only Hunter's spur-of-the-moment decision managed to save them both. It was an act of self-defence, and if Mel had called the police then and there, the pair of them might have been able to prove it. As it stands, however, she has to live with this terrible secret – as well as her psycho son Hunter. Surely that's punishment enough?

INSIDE SOAP'S Ben Whisson
"MEL HAS TO PAY THE PRICE..."

IT'S A SORRY SITUATION, BUT MEL HAS TO be sent to prison for her part in Ray's murder – and her son Hunter simply must go with her! It's fair to say that husband-to-three Ray was well overdue some bad karma, and while Hunter did what he felt he had to do by bumping him off, it's since become clear that the twisted lad has a taste for blood. By covering up Hunter's crime, Mel is allowing a dangerous individual to remain on the streets of Walford – it's time she went to the police and confessed, for everyone's sake!

Ray's money has gone as she was promised a chunk of it by Mel when they began plotting together – but, rattled by her arrival, Mel snaps and grabs Maddie! Employee Billy witnesses the encounter and offers Mel a shoulder to cry on, while he puts her actions down to the pain of being lied to and cheated on by Ray.

His kindness makes Mel think twice about confessing, so she shelves the plan and races to find Hunter to tell him her thoughts. Although when she finds out where he's been, she's stunned.

"Let's just say that Mel is starting to catch on to the fact her son is a psycho!" reveals our source. "When the police arrive the next day with news about his threats to Maddie and Nicola, it comes as no surprise to Mel. She finishes hiding away all the knives in the house, and decides that

Cain charged with murder?

AS THE NET CLOSES IN, THE POLICE PLACE HIM AT THE SCENE OF JOE'S DISAPPEARANCE...

Butlers Farm is swarming with police this week, as the local CID continues its investigation into Joe Tate's suspected killing.

Just as Cain dares to breathe easy that the cops haven't enough proof to pin Joe's murder on him, they swoop in and search his home. The event results in him being rearrested, after Cain refuses to accompany them to the station...

"The Cain Dingle of old would have managed to keep a cool head and would never have shown how rattled he is – but then the Cain of old never killed anyone," states our Dales insider. "The shame that he feels over Joe's death is coursing through his veins, and Cain isn't strong enough to handle the pressure. As a result, he looks guilty as sin!"

Of course, the injustice of Cain's predicament is that he never actually dealt the final blow that seemingly finished off Joe – only Graham knows what really became of young master Tate on that fateful day. So while the former special ops man has kept that fact to himself, it's Cain who has been left to carry the can and watch his loved ones turn against him.

That said, there is one small chink of light in Cain's life this week, when little Kyle's protective grandma Kerry agrees to let the boy spend time with his father again. However, Cain's hope that his son might return home permanently is snatched away when detectives turn up on the doorstep once again...

"The police have new evidence that places Cain at Home Farm on the day that Joe went missing," explains our snoop. "It's a

"It's a huge curveball for Cain – it seems he's back in the frame..."

Kerry allows Cain to see his son again – but how much of a role will he play in Kyle's life?

HERE COMES TROUBLE!

Village life isn't set to get any easier for Cain...

Whether Cain evades the law or finishes up in jail makes no difference to the latest news that we bring you from the Dales – as bosses unveil a new adversary for the tortured Dingle fella!

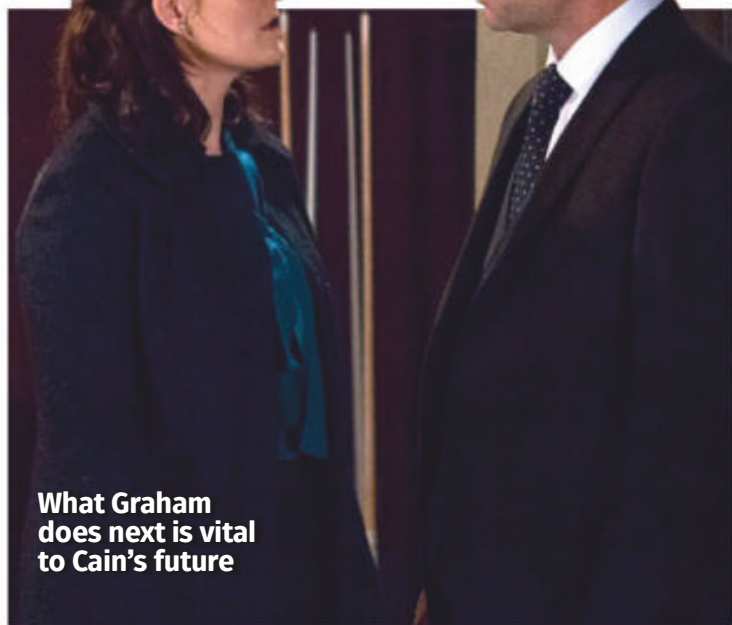

Acclaimed actor Dean Andrews – best known for roles in Life On Mars, Ashes To Ashes, Marchlands and Torvill & Dean – has signed up to play a top-secret character who will go head-to-head with Cain in the spring...

"I have always loved Emmerdale, and am thrilled to be joining the cast," grins Dean. "As a Yorkshire lad, I have always watched the show and think that everything from the acting to the stories are consistently great. I can't wait to get stuck in."

"We are delighted that Dean is joining the show," adds the Dales' executive producer, Jane Hudson. "He is a superb actor and his character is going to shake things up for some of our villagers..."

huge curveball for Cain, as he was hopeful that nothing connected him to the crime, and that Graham had taken care of everything – but it seems he's back in the frame."

While in custody, Cain struggles to get his story straight, and even admits to seeing Joe on the day that he disappeared. With that, the police head to Home Farm to see Graham, who ultimately holds the key to Cain's freedom should he choose to back up his story.

Will Graham come to Cain's rescue? Or will he leave him to the mercy of the law, on the basis that his partner-in-crime is proving to be a liability?

BEN MITCHELL RETURNS – WITH A NEW FACE!

And he's to be joined by Lola and their daughter, Lexi...

Will Phil even recognise his son when he returns?

Phil Mitchell's son Ben is on his way home to Walford, but he looks a little different from the last time we saw him!

EastEnders bosses have taken the decision to recast the role, with former Waterloo Road star Max Bowden – who played Justin Fitzgerald – taking over from previous actor Harry Reid...

"A character like Ben, with his rich history, 'complicated' family and complex psychology, is pure gold," explains the show's senior executive producer, Kate Oates. "With Max in the role, we will be exploring the aspects of Ben's character that have been allowed to develop during his time away from the Square – unfettered by old loyalties and out of the long shadow of his father, Phil.

"Harry Reid is an awesome actor and I think he did really well," adds Kate, expanding on why she chose to give Ben a makeover. "I enjoyed watching him, but I just want to take the character in a different direction. I hope people give Max a chance, as he's a great actor and I'm really excited by what we've been storylining. It's a whole new era, and that's what we want to emphasise."

Viewers last saw Ben fleeing to France, thinking he was in possession of Aidan Maguire's stolen heist money. Little is known about what happened to him after he realised the loot had been swiped – but it sounds as if his travels eventually led him to old flame Lola Pearce, and their daughter Lexi.

"Lola is heading back to the Square, and she is coming back with Ben," teases Kate. "I'm really excited about that, because the pair of them may be in cahoots a little bit. So watch out for that!"

The trio will return this spring.

BEN AND GONE!

Here's some of the drama faced by his previous faces...

Ben #1 Matthew Silver

Baby Ben endured a cruel start to life – and not just as the son of alcoholic psychopath Phil! He was struck down with meningitis, and left partially deaf in one ear.

Ben #2 Morgan Whittle

Ben was just a toddler when his mum Kathy swapped Walford for South Africa. Think of all them giraffes he'd have been ridiculously in awe of.

Ben #3 Charlie Jones

After Kathy 'died' in a car crash, Ben came back to Phil, and was abused by his fiancée, Stella Crawford. (Kathy wasn't really dead – life could've been so different!)

Ben #4 Joshua Pascoe

Teen Ben struggled with his sexuality and was channelling serious anger issues when he clobbered his friend Heather Trott to death with a picture frame.

Ben #5 Harry Reid

Older and slightly less unstable, Ben found love with Paul Coker – but their union was brutally ended when Paul was beaten to death in a homophobic assault.

Lola is on her way back with Ben's daughter, Lexi – who will be a fair bit bigger by now!

Rana to leave in shock Corrie exit...

Street favourites Kate and Rana are to be torn apart forever, if recent newspaper reports are to be believed.

Star Bhavna Limbachia, who plays Rana, has confirmed that she has made the decision to bow out of the soap, following tabloid rumours that her alter ego will die in lover Kate's arms on their wedding day...

"My journey on Coronation Street will be coming to an end," says Bhavna. "There is still lots to film, and I'm really grateful to our producer Iain [MacLeod] for respecting my decision to leave. We've come up with a wonderful exit storyline."

A newspaper has stated that Bhavna fully supports the idea of Rana being killed off – but whether a tragic end is in store for the couple's relationship remains to be seen.

A Corrie spokesperson has confirmed that Bhavna told bosses of her decision to leave last year, and say that details of her final plot – due to air later this year – are being kept under lock and key.

EASTENDERS

JEAN'S AGONY – AS SHE'S REUNITED WITH SEAN!

A cancer battle will bring mother and son back together...

What has lead Sean to be sleeping in his car?

Here's your first look at Sean Slater's return to our screens – battered, bruised and seemingly homeless.

But that's only the beginning of the drama, as Sean's comeback is driven by a highly emotional story for Jean – as the Square favourite learns she's suffering from ovarian cancer! Jean's diagnosis will be at the centre of EastEnders' biggest storyline for the spring, as part of new boss Kate Oates' plan to revamp the soap.

"The Slater clan is an amazing ensemble family, and this is a fresh subject for them to tackle," shares Kate. "I know they'll do it justice, and raise awareness of such an important issue."

The plot will bring Sean – who was last seen fleeing the Square in 2008 – back into his mum's life as she seeks out her missing son. But does she want her family with her at this time – or does she have devastating news to tell her boy? All will be revealed when the pair's first scenes are screened in a few weeks.

Inside Soap caught actors Gillian Wright and Rob Kazinsky – aka Jean and Sean – filming on location recently, where it looked as if Sean was the one needing medical attention. It appears he's sleeping rough in a car to escape the cold, so how will Jean react to seeing her son in such a state – and how will Sean deal with his mum's news? Could they each be the support the other needs to overcome their challenges?

Whatever happens, Rob tells us to expect some emotional moments...

"EastEnders is never afraid to combat hard storylines and tell hard truths," he says. "I have always been proud of what the show has done for social awareness in my lifetime and that is why I'm back."

Will Sean and Jean provide much-needed support for each other?

AMY RETURNS FOR HER SON!

But a new actress will play Cain's former conquest...

EMMERDALE

Prepare for fireworks in the Dales when Kerry's daughter Amy Wyatt returns – and inevitably paves the way for a tug of love with Cain over their son, Kyle!

Show bosses are keeping quiet as to why Amy comes back, but Dales newcomer Natalie Ann Jamieson – who is taking over the role from original actress Chelsea Halfpenny – hasn't been able to contain her delight...

"I'm incredibly excited to meet the talented team at Emmerdale," she beams. "I can't wait to see what the future holds for Amy."

A huge story for the Dales back in 2011 saw Cain revealed as the father of teenager Amy's baby following a secret one-night-stand. She initially had Kyle adopted, but later regretted her decision and attempted to kidnap him, before Cain convinced her to return the little lad. Kerry's lass eventually fled to Ireland in 2013 – so will she turn out to be the character that Marlon and Paddy encounter on their upcoming trip to Belfast?

Meanwhile, original star Chelsea – who bid farewell to playing Alicia in Casualty and ruled out a village return – has wished Natalie all the best in the role. We'll see what's on the horizon for Amy in the coming weeks...

STOP PRESS!

Black with a bang!

Grace Black hasn't had her own big plot in Hollyoaks of late, but she's about to set our screens alight again soon. "She comes back with a bang – literally," shares actress Tamara Wall, who plays her. "It's a ridiculous story, worth waiting for!"

Un-Faith-ful?

Dales bosses Kate Brooks and Laura Shaw say heartbreak could be in store for one village couple. "Faith and Eric are to be tested," they reveal. "Is Faith going to have her head turned by a new man?"

Come home!

Walford's Danny Dyer has called for the return of Mick and Linda's grown-up children Lee, Nancy and Johnny. "I'd love to see them back," he says. "The Carters are quite depleted, so it'll give us more storylines and people to play with."

Keanu lays down the law!

HE'S DETERMINED TO MAKE SHARON LISTEN TO WHAT HE HAS TO TELL HER...

Sharon isn't at all happy with Keanu starting up a relationship with Louise Keanu has a furious confrontation with his ex-lover Sharon this week – in the Vic toilets, of all places!

It's clear that Keanu is living dangerously when he follows Mrs Mitchell into the ladies' loos, well aware that anyone – including her volatile hubby Phil – could spot him, and demand to know what the hell he's up to. But the young mechanic has something very important to say to Sharon, and he's adamant that she's going to listen...

"Keanu's not happy with the way Sharon unceremoniously dumped him," our Square spy reminds us. "She then had the nerve to get the hump about his romance with Louise – after she was the one who ran off to America and left him! The way he sees it, she has no right to dictate who he can and can't see, when it was her who ended things."

No one can blame Sharon for being a bit put out. Keanu moving on is one thing, but he could have picked someone other than her stepdaughter to date! It's no wonder that the tension between the ex-lovers is at an all-time high, with Keanu still pining after his older lady, and Sharon jealous of him and Louise.

Nevertheless, Keanu is still desperate to talk to Sharon and clear the air – but every time he attempts to corner her, Sharon finds a reason to walk away. She's given the perfect excuse this week when Phil calls a business meeting with Mel, so she hurries off, giving her former toy boy the brush-off once again.

However, Sharon is alarmed as Phil mentions the possibility of returning to Spain – no doubt worried that she'll give in to temptation with Keanu again if her hubby's away! So imagine her relief after Phil lets her take the lead on the business deal with Mel, Sharon wants to get rid of Keanu – but he's finally standing up for himself!

Kathy returns for Masood!

SHE WANTS A FUTURE WITH HIM...

Kathy returns to the Square this week, to inform Masood that she's changed her mind about having a relationship with him – she wants him after all!

The pair had grown close to one another while working together at Ian's restaurant – and even shared a kiss last summer. However, when Ian realised that his mother was contemplating getting it on with his business partner, he totally flipped out!

"You'll remember the ugly scene that followed, which ended up in the pages of the Walford Gazette," grimaces our EastEnders spy. "So perhaps it wasn't surprising that Kathy decided not to rock the boat further! She told Mas she had to put the feelings of her son first. But now she's had time away, it seems she's had a change of heart..."

When Masood spots Kathy back in the Square, they exchange a look, and it's clear that there's still a spark between them. And he's delighted when Kathy meets with him later and reveals that she wants to make a go of things!

"Masood is over the moon," grins our informant. "He was crushed when Kathy originally told him that their romance was over before it had begun. The big question is – how on earth is Ian going to take the news that his mother and Mas are an item?"

It's when Sharon hurries into the toilets after the business lunch that Keanu spots his chance to get the things he wants to say off his chest. And as the teenager barges his way into the lavatories, the look on Sharon's face is one of pure horror...

"It's clear that Sharon wants to get rid of Keanu as soon as possible, before anyone else spots him," muses our mole. "But Keanu's finally standing up for himself – and Sharon's going to listen to him, no matter what! So what exactly does he have to say to her that's so important he has to force her to listen?"

Juliet's sly selfie scheme!

HOLLYOAKS | Channel 4 WEDNESDAY

Juliet plans to break up Mandy and Darren this week, as she takes a selfie with Darren while he's asleep! It comes following a difficult time for the troubled teenager, and she finds comfort in the older man's company...

"There's a lot of tension between Juliet, Ollie and Brooke," explains Niamh Blackshaw, who plays Juliet. "She loves to wind people up to cope with how upset she is at home. The main person she likes to attack is Brooke. Once again, Juliet says something to her and Ollie snaps."

Darren witnesses Ollie laying into Juliet and, feeling sorry for her, he decides to help her out.

But this only fuels Juliet's crush on Darren, and she soon begins to obsess over him. However, after spotting Juliet pocket a poem Darren wrote about Ollie, Brooke is certain that Juliet fancies Ollie...

"It's Brooke's first instinct,"

Niamh tells us.

"Juliet begins to hang around the Morgans' flat – she starts wearing make-up too. Brooke reckons that she's hanging around for Ollie – the idea it could be Darren doesn't even cross her mind."

Later, Juliet is shocked to go home and find Darren asleep on her sofa! Unbeknown to Juliet, Donna-Marie took Darren back to hers to make some cash.

"Initially, Juliet is shocked to find Darren in the house," reveals Niamh. "She always thinks the best of him, though, and doesn't believe he'd go to the house for Donna-Marie."

Once Juliet realises that she and Darren are alone, she takes a cheeky selfie with him.

"Juliet's very naive, and she's in love with the idea of a relationship," says Niamh.

"Darren's lying there and no one's around, so she takes the chance to just live out this fantasy for a brief moment."

"At first, Juliet keeps the selfie in the journal Darren gave to her," adds the star. "But she then chooses to Juliet makes this reckless delivery after learning from Ollie that Mandy and Darren are on the rocks. Besotted with Darren, Juliet applies for a job at the Hutch – although is it for money, or purely to be near her beloved?

“It works both ways!” chuckles Niamh. “It’s obviously just to get closer to Darren – but Juliet doesn’t have her own money, so that works well for her too.”

Despite Juliet’s sudden adoration for Darren, Niamh informs us that this ‘romance’ is purely a one-way street. Yet with Mandy and Darren already struggling to stay together, will Juliet’s scheming prove to be the sledgehammer that shatters their already-splintering relationship?

Gemma & Chesney – a couple at last!

Un lucky-in-love Gemma finally gets her man this week – when smitten Chesney comes to her rescue, and they fall into each other's arms.

For months, the kebab shop duo have secretly been mad about each other, but keep missing their chance to make a move. So Ches has instead embarked on a romance with kind-hearted Emma.

However, when Gemma's wayward brother Paul gets her into a sticky situation, she calls Ches for help, and he is her knight in shining armour as he rushes to her rescue, paving the way for love to blossom...

"Everyone knows Gemma and Ches should be together – even his current girlfriend, Emma," insists our Corrie spy. "Emma's been kidding herself that she's the one to build a future with Chesney, but although he's tried to do the decent thing, it's clear where his heart truly lies. It's time for everyone to just be honest."

Gemma had all but given up on Chesney following their botched attempts to admit how they really feel. Instead, she's been distracted by Paul – and all the trouble he brings with him. Her main concern is that Paul is going to reveal all about her past and make sure that everyone in Weatherfield turns their back on her. Gemma can't bear the idea that she could lose Chesney, Rita, Jenny and Cathy because of the person she used to be.

"We all know Gemma and Ches should be together!"

Sadly, Paul hasn't reformed, and this week, he steals from Roy a diamond ring belonging to Sylvia. Gemma is horrified when she finds out that her brother swiped the valuable trinket and sold it on to market trader Big Garth for far less than it was worth. Once Paul realises he received a measly £200 for a ring actually worth £3,000, he bolts off to confront Big Garth, with Gemma in hot pursuit!

The siblings arrive at the market but Big Garth refuses to hand over the ring, so they decide to break into his van to try to find it. Unfortunately, the burly bloke then locks the van, and they are trapped inside!

"After being in prison for so long, Paul goes nuts when he realises they're locked in," explains our sneak. "He's lucky that Gemma thinks fast and calls on Ches for help. After

JUST GET IT TOGETHER!

Now Ches and Gemma are finally an item, here are some other soap favourites we want to couple up...

BILLY AND PAUL

Our Billy loves a bad boy, doesn't he? We enjoyed the shock snog between these two, and there is some serious chemistry that's just begging to be explored. It would be great to see Billy try to manage a relationship with Paul, as he makes Todd Grimshaw look as harmless as Mary Cole!

PHIL AND KIM

With Sharon torn over Keanu, is Phil going to find himself back in the singles market? If so, we'd like to see him fall for Kim – one of the few people he can actually stick in Albert Square. The pair of them would be a crazy but truly fascinating combo!

DAWN AND RYAN

There is nothing purer than the feelings between Ryan and Dawn. Ryan's such a good guy – caring, funny and willing to stand up to anyone to protect his girl. Dawn needs to grab hold of happiness with both hands, and to try to ignore monster-in-law, Charity!

Desperate to get their hands on the valuable trinket, Gemma and Paul go to extreme lengths a daring escape, she falls into Chesney's arms with Emma watching on. It's only a platonic gesture, but it tells Emma all she needs to know. The only decent thing is for her to step aside and let them be together."

Although Chesney is a little stunned when Emma puts a stop to their romance, he doesn't waste any more time. Gemma is over the moon as she realises he's finally free, and the happy couple share a passionate kiss. With them having spent so long dreaming of this, not even the hardest heart could begrudge them happiness now it's arrived.

It's not the only relationship in Gemma's life that moves on, however, as she and Paul agree to bury the hatchet too. The twins share a touching moment as they confess how they've missed each other, and agree to start again. For Gemma, it's the first time in her life that she has a lovely boyfriend and a bright future – and one that involves her brother too. She has to pinch herself to believe it's real, but she's taken a long journey to get to this point.

The question is, can Gemma now move forward and enjoy herself? Or will she find a way to sabotage her own happiness?

Kat's kiddie crisis!

EASTENDERS | BBC1 TUESDAY

IS THE STRESS OF SO MANY CHILDREN GETTING TOO MUCH?

Kat is struggling to cope with looking after her brood of kids this week – and she's not helped when Big Mo 'borrows' Tommy for one of her scams, then loses him!

Poor Kat has found it very difficult to manage her family ever since Alfie took off again, and Hayley was checked into hospital. But now her resolve is about to be pushed to its very limit.

"There are only so many hours in the day, and Kat realises that something is going to have to give," reasons our Walford insider. "She reluctantly decides to give up on her ambitions to drive Charlie's old cab, because she has no time to devote to learning 'the Knowledge'. When Mo hears about Kat's decision, though, she's having none of it. She promises to step up to the plate and help Kat out... which can only lead to trouble!"

Problems follow almost instantly, when Mo 'selflessly' offers to take Tommy to school. Not surprisingly, however, she has an ulterior motive. After convincing the young lad to feign illness, Mo soon has him playing a role in another of her crafty money-making schemes.

"Fagin and the Artful Dodger might have learned a thing or two from Big Mo!" chuckles our spy. "As soon as she launches into her sob story, she succeeds in persuading complete strangers to hand over their cash. Unfortunately, Mo is so set on having her eye on the prize that she takes her eye off Tommy – and then Kat's new lease of life!

There are changes ahead as she faces life after Alfie...

Alfie may have tried to come good in the end – leaving Kat a bag of cash pilfered from Phil Mitchell for her and the kids. But in typical Alfie style, he's mucked up, and Phil is now after Kat for his missing money!

Don't expect Alfie to rush back and sort out his mess anytime soon, though. EastEnders head honcho Kate Oates reveals that Kat will be flying solo – well, apart from the other 300 Slaters in their house that is! – for the time being...

"Shane [Richie, aka Alfie] has created such an icon in Alfie, that you never know [if he'll be back]. I'd work with Shane again – he's Alfie, and he's awesome," she shared. "But I'm excited about moving Kat on with refreshing dynamics. I feel that's really important."

Meanwhile, Shane is signed up to a six-month run in hit West End musical Everybody's Talking About Jamie – in which he'll play drag queen Loco Chanelle – so it seems any return for Alfie is a long way off. But Kate admits that Kat and Alfie are forever linked, whether or not they're both in Walford.

Meet Colby's twisted sister!

HE AT LAST TRACKS DOWN BELLA – AND SHE TRIES TO KILL HIM...

This is the moment that Summer Bay police officer Colby finally comes face to face with his long-lost sister Bella – only for her to aim a crossbow at him!

Colby hasn't seen his half-sibling since her wicked dad, Ross, kidnapped Bella – along with her and Colby's mother – leaving no trace of where they'd gone. Colby has made it his mission to track her down ever since. But when he does eventually find her, it's not exactly the warm and fuzzy family reunion that he was hoping for...

"In his head, Colby had imagined this lovely, happy event – although it turns out that Bella is completely feral!" chuckles Tim Franklin, who plays the cop. "Her response is to point a crossbow at him, because she's been totally brainwashed by Ross and told lots of lies about Colby. It's definitely not the reaction he was expecting, and he's utterly side-swiped."

It's clear that Ross has done a number on Bella, who soon fires a warning shot from the crossbow, forcing Colby and his best mate Dean to back off. As Bella flees, Colby and Dean give chase, and find Bella hiding in the backyard. But getting her to trust the pair of them will be a tall order.

"Bella is terrified – she's been told repeatedly by her dad that Colby is not to be trusted," explains Courtney Miller, who plays her. "Her first instinct is to protect herself, and she won't leave without a fight, or firing an arrow."

SHE BEGS JIMMY FOR ANOTHER CHANCE...

Desperate Nicola fights to pick up the pieces of her life this week, determined not to let Graham destroy everything for her. But will Jimmy be in the mood to forgive his wife?

In the fallout from Nicola and Robert's scam against Graham being exposed, Jimmy doesn't seem ready to listen to anything that Nicola has to say. And as he mopes around, he ignores a phone call, thinking that it must be Nicola, begging for another chance. However, it's actually someone from the school – who is desperately trying to get in touch with him to tell him that Elliot has gone missing! Meanwhile, Nicola is also moping, and wondering if she can ever fix things...

"With her life lying in tatters, Nicola is feeling sulky and defiant as she denies any responsibility for her actions," explains our Dales insider. "Frankly, she needs to take a long hard look at her life. She's brought all this on herself!"

Nicola is eventually jolted out of her self-pity when the school calls to inform her about Elliot's disappearance. Suddenly panicked about what might have happened, she's relieved to find the lad outside on the street. After giving him an emotional hug, she then demands to know why he isn't attending his classes.

"Perhaps Nicola might at last wake up to the fact that actions have consequences," sighs our mole. Nicola resolves to fight for her marriage – but will angry Jimmy forgive and forget?

“Perhaps Nicola might at last wake up to the fact that actions have consequences!”

After reassuring her boy that she'll always be there for him, no matter what happens, Nicola is filled with renewed vigour to fight for her marriage. She decides to head over to the house in order to have it out with Jimmy, keen to do whatever it takes for him to give her another chance.

"It's a question of timing," reckons our spy. "Jimmy does still love her, but right now he's feeling very raw. Perhaps Nicola needs to give him some time to cool down before she barges back in? It's anyone's guess what sort of reaction she's going to get from him."

Liz & Jenny – face to face!

WILL LIZ CRUSH HER NEMESIS... OR SAVE HER SKIN?

Terrified Jenny's future hangs in the balance this week – as Liz prepares to give evidence against her in court.

Ever since Liz discovered it was Jenny who mowed her down and left her for dead, she's been determined for justice to be done. Meanwhile, panicked Jenny and her worried husband Johnny have been preparing for the worst. Days before their court date, Johnny decides to visit Eva and baby Susie, leaving Jenny home alone in the Rovers. Feeling self-destructive and scared, Jenny starts to unravel.

"Viewers have seen just how bad Jenny's dependence on booze has become over the past few months – she's heading towards alcoholism," warns our Street insider. "With Johnny gone, at her insistence, she hits the bottle hard and arrives in the Rovers full of bitterness and paranoia. It's a sad sight for the punters, because Jenny is clearly very unwell, and she makes a holy show of herself by throwing everyone out of the pub. Somebody needs to help her."

You might have thought that the last person to come to Jenny's aid would be Liz. However, Liz takes no pleasure in hearing about the sorry state Jenny is in. Liz lets herself into the pub, determined to sort things out. But how will the wronged wife feel about being face to face with the woman who tried to steal her husband?

Bev knows how she'd like this sad tale to end...

As Liz holds Jenny's fate in her hands this week, she's left in a quandry. But off screen, actress Bev Callard, who plays Liz, knows what she thinks about the whole sorry affair...

"I didn't want Liz to sleep with a married man," she states. "However, regardless of that, I do think Johnny is more to blame than anyone. I reckon Liz and Jenny should get together and take their revenge on Johnny. After all, these are strong women we're talking about – and it's all his fault!"

Be afraid, Johnny... be very afraid!

after the events of the night before. Although Steve insists it's down to the judge to decide Jenny's future, Liz feels as though she's responsible.

Over at the Rovers, Johnny is horrified to return home to find his wife in pieces, convinced that she'll be sent to prison. As her loved ones, including Gemma, rally round, solicitor Imran explains the only way this nightmare will go away is if Liz doesn't show up in court.

"This may not have been the wisest thing to have said in front of someone as, er, spontaneous as Gemma," teases our snitch. "Not long afterwards, she blags her way into Liz's flat with a plan. Steve is horrified when the police arrive to ask him where his mum is, as Liz hasn't arrived in court. What on earth has Gemma done? And is Liz a willing participant in it?"

The outcome of the trial and the drama that ensues is being kept under wraps. Whatever happens, Johnny has a lot of work to do to help Jenny recover. After all, he started all this by having an affair with Liz! Now, it's his job to help Jenny and rebuild their marriage. But is it already too late?

There are new arrivals in Hollyoaks village this week, much to the annoyance of Lisa Loveday.

Following the departure of her brother Zack and mother Simone, her Aunt Martine's son, Mitchell, and dad, Walter, turn up needing a roof over their heads. And as the Price Slice flat is practically empty, they decide it's the perfect place for them to live in – but Lisa's not best pleased, and declares she's moving out!

Will the fiery villager try to stay with unreliable Liam – or will she come around to the idea of living with her nearest and dearest?

Paddy's daddy?

Marlon wants him to discover the truth...

EMMERDALE
BBC1 TUESDAY

Paddy's paternity is at the front of Marlon's mind this week – as his best friend continues to avoid discussing the matter.

Ever since Mandy dropped the bombshell that she's found evidence concerning the affair Paddy's mum had with the wrestler Bear Wolf, the stunned vet has buried his head in the sand. But while he would much rather live in blissful ignorance, Marlon believes that he should get to the bottom of this mystery, and wants to go to a wrestling convention nearby to confront Bear Wolf.

However, it looks as if he'll be going alone as Paddy refuses to discuss the possibility, clinging to his memories of the man he knew as 'Dad'. Can Marlon persuade him to come too?

Ruby's mistake

EASTENDERS
BBC1 MONDAY

Ruby is cringing this week, as she wakes up having spent the night with Jay, to realise he's gone!

Assuming he's cut and run, Ruby is disappointed that Jay isn't as committed to their blossoming romance as she'd hoped. Meanwhile, smitten Jay is bleating on to Keanu about his amazing new girlfriend!

It's not until Ruby finds a romantic note from Jay stuck to her fridge that she realises how she's got the wrong end of the stick. So are the cute pair for keeps after all?

ALICIA THE GREAT

I was really sad to see Alicia leave Casualty this week. She's a brilliant character and a great role model for young girls watching – plus, I really wanted her and Ethan to finally make a go of things! I'm glad she left on a high note, though, and got to pursue the job of her dreams.

📧 | Andrew, Leeds

More to the point, why isn't Nick offering to help out his gran!

This was a sorry tail for paw couple David and Aaron

RUFF JUSTICE

By far the most upsetting storyline for me this week was when Reggie was dognapped in Neighbours! That lady who took her, Vera, was vile. I can't believe David and Aaron had to let her keep their beloved pooch. Reggie was much better off with them – they made such adorable doggy daddies!

📧 | Lianne

Hopefully Reggie will find her way back to them somehow!

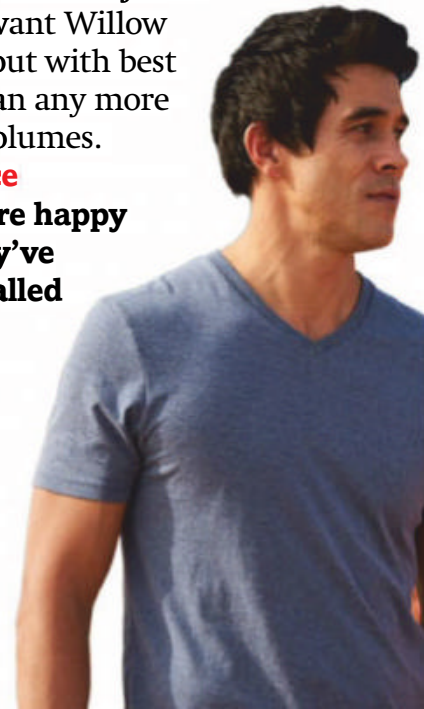

JUSTIN TIME

Is anyone else really bored of Justin and Willow's romance in Home and Away? They seem to spend more time fighting than actually being nice to each other. And the fact that Justin doesn't want Willow to hang out with best mate Dean any more speaks volumes.

📧 | Janice

Bet you're happy now they've finally called it quits!

We wouldn't exactly call this the look of love

BRUTAL BREDa

The moment when Hollyoaks' Breda killed Louis by smashing him over the head with a phone made me jump out of my skin! I wasn't fussed about the people she killed before – I was glad to see the back of them – but I don't think Louis deserved to die. I know he was a love cheat, but he wasn't in the same league as someone like Glen.

📧 | Rachel

It was brutal – but I'm totally on board with Breda's quest to rid the village of bad dads!

MISSING FORTUNE?

MORE MOORE!

I was over the moon to see Emmerdale's James Moore win Best Newcomer at the National Television Awards. He's not only an amazing ambassador for disabled people, but as Ryan Stocks he has proved himself to be a very able actor. In addition to that, his own personality shines through like a beacon of light.

👤 | Mary, Gainsborough

We're big fans of James here at Inside Soap – what a thoroughly deserving award winner!

Mick managing this pint-sized football team is a right balls-up!

MICK'S OWN GOAL

I waited months for EastEnders' Mick to be released from jail so that he could get back behind the bar of the Vic where he belongs. And now that he's free, the best the writers can him give is a terrible plot about a local football team! This is Mick Carter – he deserves so much better!

👤 | Lisa, Cambridge

Hopefully he'll be at the centre of a decent plot again soon...

JUST BRO UP!

I really want Emmerdale's Ellis to give his brother Billy another chance. They remind me of Ryan and Ali from Coronation Street – two fit brothers who are always bickering. They'd make a great team if they just got on!

AMY'S SHOCK PREGNANCY

got herself into such a terrible predicament! With all their arguing and game-playing, they've never exactly made their daughter a priority. If you ask me, this is just a cry for attention from Amy.

👤 | Sarah-Jane

Corrie really is fond of a teen pregnancy plot, isn't it? Amy's neighbours Faye and Sarah have already had babies at a young age – are they not teaching the youngsters about safe sex in Weatherfield?

👤 | JM, London

Some of you see Amy making a good mam, though...

I'd love for Amy to go ahead and have her baby – a kid will be a breeze compared with dealing with her daft parents!

👤 | Annabelle

I know Amy's teen pregnancy plot is meant to be shocking, but I was actually crying with laughter at the way Steve in particular reacted to her bombshell. When he grabbed that spade and marched to the shop to confront Aadi, I was in stitches! What exactly was he going to do with it?

👤 | Lydia

It was lovely to see Tracy's maternal streak finally come out as she reacted calmly and rationally to Amy's baby news. Who knew she had a human side? It's just a shame she went and ruined it all by loudly accusing her nephew Simon of being the daddy!

👤 | Gino

But could Tracy and Steve be to blame for all this?

With parents like Steve and Tracy, it's no wonder Amy's

ROBERT'S A KILLER?

In Emmerdale recently, Victoria seemed to suggest that Robert had killed Jimmy's brother. I had no idea that this happened! Can you fill me in please, Sarah?

It was indeed Robert's reckless actions that led to the death of Jimmy's

“This episode Mandy realises beautiful life

HOLLYOAKS’ SARAH JAYNE DUNN TALKS TO US ABOUT A GROUNDBREAKING
INSTALMENT OF THE SOAP...

HOLLYOAKS | Channel 4 TUESDAY

Hollyoaks will air a special episode this week, celebrating the diversity of the characters living within the village. The instalment sees Mandy torn over the future of her unborn baby, who has been diagnosed with spina bifida – a fault in the development of the spinal column – and how the village’s many characters with disabilities and additional needs help her come to her decision.

It’s the first time that a soap has taken a focus of this kind, and when we catch up with Sarah Jayne Dunn, who plays Mandy, she tells us how much she appreciates being at the centre of this groundbreaking episode...

“I already felt honoured to be given such a great storyline with the spina bifida plot,” reveals the actress.

“A lot of people have got in touch with me and said it’s not talked about enough, and that it’s really good we’re raising awareness – mums that have been in Mandy’s situation themselves have contacted me too, which is great.”

Having been offered the chance to undergo pioneering surgery, which may improve her child’s life, Mandy must decide whether or not she wants to go ahead with the procedure. Like any operation, it comes with risks – and things are made that much harder by the fact that her partner Darren is staunchly against having it done.

“Darren not wanting the operation causes such a strain on them. With a situation as big as this, you want your partner on the same page as you, and Mandy needs Darren by her side. It’s causing more stress for Mandy, which is so sad.”

Added to Mandy’s anguish right now is the fact that she believes the baby is actually her estranged husband Luke’s,

Mandy

do what’s right for her child

de makes ulise how fe can be!”

life. It was great for me as I had the chance to work with a lot of cast members that I don't normally have the opportunity to act alongside. It's a very beautiful, colourful episode.”

Pivotal to Mandy making her final decision is a conversation she has with teenager Brooke, who is autistic.

“Brooke's having a bit of a hard time, and Mandy just stumbles across her,” explains Sarah. “They have a heart-to-heart – Brooke's upset because she feels that she's different, and people judge her. However, Mandy tells Brooke that she's a beautiful, kind and loving young woman, and that's what makes her so special. It's a key moment for Mandy.”

Whether Mandy decides to go through with the operation or not, it's clear that there will be some testing times ahead for her and Darren. But Sarah hopes that there will be a light at the end of the tunnel for the troubled couple, too.

“All Mandy has ever wanted is a happy family,” she shares. “For her and Darren to have the baby, stay strong and learn to live with their child's condition is all she could ever ask for. I just want to see my character happy – but then again, this is soapland, so that's probably quite unlikely to happen!”

Sarah Ellis

Life affirming: The village's diverse residents help Mandy realise it's okay to be different to rest, however, as the special episode unfolds – and she crosses paths with other people in Hollyoaks village...

“What it really opens her eyes to is the fact that there are people with disabilities living happy, fulfilled lives,” grins Sarah, who's mum to two-year-old son Stanley. “It makes Mandy see how beautiful life can be – and that, as long as she has a support unit around her, she and her baby can lead a normal and not Darren's! So will her partner get a say in the baby's future, given that he may not even be the father?

“I think Mandy's made up her mind that she's doing this, with or without Darren,” reckons Sarah. “Regardless of who the father is, Mandy has become protective and maternal – she just wants to do what's right for her child. I think that happens when you become pregnant.”

Any niggling doubts that Mandy may have had about the operation are laid

Helping Mand: Brooke shares a heart-to-heart with her fellow villager

Super SURGERY

The operation offered to Mandy was performed in the UK for the first time last year – and involves repairing the spinal cord while the baby is still in the womb. Previously, mums could either have the surgery abroad, or wait until the baby was born for the operation to take place.

“This procedure is really new in the UK, so it's a good time to talk about it,” says Sarah. “There will be viewers in Mandy's position, weighing up the pros and cons.”

EastEnders fans may recall that, in 1997, Ricky and Bianca learned their unborn baby had spina bifida and terminated the pregnancy. The plot saw charities urge the soap to portray the reality of having a child with spina bifida. So will Hollyoaks be the first to show what it's like for families living with this condition?

The mother of all NIGHTMARES!

AS JAN ENDURES A HORRENDOUS SHIFT, CASUALTY'S DI BOTCHER ADMITS THE PARAMEDIC'S LOYALTIES WILL BE TRULY TESTED...

“Jan’s trying to be professional, but she does lose it a bit,” sighs Di Botcher, who plays Jan, as she joins us to chat through the tough-talking paramedic’s shift from hell this week. “Her son is lying there with the back of his head smashed in and it’s absolutely horrible. She’s doing her best as a paramedic, and as a mother – although it’s very tough...”

Jan has a horrific day in store as she’s called to the scene of a drug overdose, and arrives to discover not just a dead body, but her distressed colleague Iain leaning over a seriously injured man. It’s Ross – her son! A test of Jan’s mettle follows, as Iain admits that he attacked Ross, before revealing that her boy is a drug dealer...

Hello, Di! Poor Jan really does go to hell and back in this week’s episode, doesn’t she?

Oh, yes. It’s an awful situation. She starts out thinking it’s just a normal shift – picking up people who’ve taken overdoses, people whose lives have been blighted by drugs, it’s very much part of a paramedic’s job. So to think that her son is part of this, or might be a drug addict himself – she can’t believe it.

Yes, she absolutely refuses to accept it when Iain first tells her!

Jan just thinks Ross has got in with a bad crowd, and she’s blinkered. Her son is lying there on a hospital bed, so he becomes her little boy again – and she’s his mum. It’s an awful situation.

Then Jan calls the police on Iain, and he’s arrested for attacking Ross...

The call is a knee-jerk reaction rather than a considered opinion. There’s a moment in the ED where Iain’s trying to go through Ross’ bag, to find the drugs and prove to Jan what’s been going on. But to Jan it looks like he’s attacking him again – and calling the police comes out of the fury of that moment.

Were you surprised to find out that Jan had a son?

I was very surprised! Jan is a closed book – she doesn’t want people to know about her personal life, and she doesn’t want to know about other people’s personal lives, either. However, I was really pleased when they told me that we’d be exploring a bit more about her.

What can you tell us about Jan’s relationship with Ross?

Ross’ father walked out on Jan when Ross was a young teenager, and he rebelled. He ended up getting in with a bad bunch and has been a thorn in Jan’s side for years. He blames her for his father leaving, not taking into account the fact that Jan was in an awful marriage with a nasty man. So Ross and Jan haven’t had a cosy mother and son relationship.

How are you expecting viewers to react to the episode?

I would love it if viewers were interested in Jan’s story, or had more sympathy for her. She’s a bit bossy sometimes, and so guarded, but hopefully they’ll see why she is how she is.

Knowing Jan as well as you do, would you like her to be your friend in real life?

I would definitely go out on a karaoke night with her – I bet we’d have a laugh! I don’t reckon she’d be sitting around in my kitchen drinking endless coffees, but I think that once you have Jan as a friend, she would be absolutely loyal. I’d love it if she was a mate of mine!

Allison Jones

My poor boy: Jan is powerless to help her son

All in A DAY’S WORK!

Di takes us behind the scenes of the Casualty ambulance station...

The bad touch: Iain is arrested for assault

“My first Casualty stunt was impressive.

It involved a woman catching fire after a car accident, which was quite something. We have real paramedics with us – the experts – so you always know you’re in safe hands.”

“I played a police woman recently, and people do mistake you for a real one! I have friends who make fun of me and say, “If anything happens, Di will sort it out!” But I’d call 999, the same as anybody else!”

“I’d love to have a go at being a real-life medic, and learn a few procedures – that would be brilliant. But just because you’ve done a two-day course, doesn’t mean you can do open-heart surgery!”

“I film a lot out and about, as well as in the studio, and I like that balance. Mike [Stevenson, aka Iain] and Maddie [Hill, aka Ruby] are lovely. But Jan also spends a lot of time in her office!”

“We get some great guest stars on Casualty, and it’s lovely when old faces turn up. We always welcome our guests. We’re not cliquey – we’re all in it together. So I hope everyone who comes in has a good time with us!”

10 totally true FACTS about... Emily Symons

YOUR InsideSoap BRIEFING ON THE STAR BEHIND SUMMER BAY'S MARILYN...

1 Emily Symons was born on 10 August 1969 in Sydney, New South Wales. The star was at a young age when her parents split, and her mum remarried when Emily was four years old – Emily didn't see her biological father until 10 years later. After Emily left school, she started to pursue acting – but she worked in shops for nearly a year before getting her foot in the acting door, with a role in a post office training video!

WORDS: ALICE PENWILL. PHOTOS: LFI, MATRIX PICTURES, GETTY, REX, SHUTTERSTOCK

2 Emily's big break came in 1988, when she managed to bag the part of Anne Costello in Australian soap opera Richmond Hill. The show was devised by Neighbours creator Reg Watson. "It only went for a year, and it was axed after that!" recalls the star. "It was a wonderful, brief experience."

3 A year on from Richmond Hill, Emily made her debut in Home and Away as Marilyn Chambers. Dannii Minogue auditioned for the part of Marilyn, but was later given the role of Emma Jackson. Marilyn has wed three times, and suffered heartbreak with her second husband Donald Fisher when their son Byron died from cancer. She left in 2001, but returned nine years later.

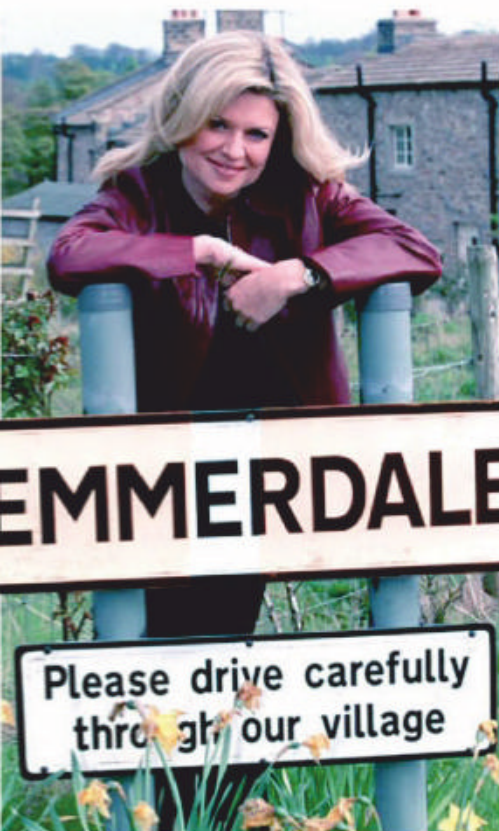

4 Marilyn was introduced as the ditsy girl-next-door, and is known for her extravagant fashion choices, which have continued into her later years. "Marilyn is who she is," laughs Emily. "She doesn't care what people think. In her mind, she dresses how a lady of her age would dress – she reckons it's normal, and is proud of her style."

5 Emily has been married twice, the second time to Lorenzo Smith – a descendent of stationary tycoon W H Smith – but they split in 2005. Emily also dated her Dales co-star, Matt Healey (Matthew King). More recently, she was in a relationship with radio executive Paul Jackson, and together they have a son named Henry. They split shortly after the lad was born.

6 After her first stint in Summer Bay, Emily moved to the UK – and soon found herself behind the bar of the Woolpack as Emmerdale's Louise Appleton. The bosses were so keen to have Emily play their Aussie character that she didn't even audition for the show! "I loved working behind the bar in the Woolpack," confesses Emily. "I worked with Sheree Murphy [Tricia], Mark Charnock [Marlon] and Elizabeth Estensen [Diane] – they were very happy days." On screen, Louise dated older man Rodney, then Jamie Hope – who was 17 years younger than her! Louise left the village with Jamie, and the pair moved to Australia together.

7 In 2003, Emily featured on the soap special of Stars In Their Eyes! She performed Mambo Italiano as Rosemary Clooney – but admitted to feeling nervous before the performance. "I do suffer from stage fright," she said. "I might have to be hypnotised to do this!" Emily also came 4th in the second series of Dancing On Ice – suffering a broken rib for her trouble!

8 Emily is a lover of London – even when she was filming Emmerdale, she often travelled from up north to the capital city. "Without a doubt, hands down, Selfridges has to be my favourite department store in the world!" expresses the actress. "I loved going there, and buying gifts for family and friends. I love Knightsbridge and used to live in Chelsea, so a walk up the King's Road was very sentimental – it's really nice to see all your old haunts..."

9 One of Marilyn's trademarks is her high heels, and Emily admits she needs the boost.

"I'm five-foot-and-half-an-inch – the half is very important!" chuckles the star. "It doesn't bother me being short – most of us on Home and Away are diddy. Marilyn wears high heels everywhere, however I had to retire from wearing them when I was pregnant. Marilyn in flats was weird, though – it was just wrong!"

10 Emily has confessed that she doesn't look quite like Marilyn away from work, and it takes a fair amount of time for her to transform into the glamorous character. "Marilyn is a beautician and hairdresser, so the hair and make-up are always done," says the star. "It's the bane of my life! You do see women who are perfectly turned out, though – it's their standard, and it never drops." When asked if she was just as put-together, Emily grins: "God, no! I'm an exhausted mother. That is not what I look like on the weekends, let me tell you."

PREPARE FOR BIG DRAMA AND SERIOUS HEARTBREAK, WARNS EMMERDALE'S OLIVIA BROMLEY...

Make no mistake, Emmerdale's Dawn Taylor is a desperate woman right now. Not only is she in the fight of her life against drug addiction, but she's also broken-hearted at the thought of losing her son Lucas forever. She's come a long way since arriving in the village in the grip of heroin abuse and working as a prostitute – however, Dawn has a hard road ahead. The question is, can she find the inner strength to keep going without making stupid, reckless decisions along the way?

"I'd love it if Dawn could get clean, but she's going through a physical and mental addiction, and that's not an easy thing to break," explains Olivia Bromley, who plays her, as she joins us for a chat. "You need people to drag you out of that, and Dawn's spent years being completely lost. It's a big battle, and she has to fight hard."

Although Harriet has given her a roof over her head, and best mate Ryan is also there for her, Dawn is struggling with her withdrawal symptoms. So, when she hears that wheels are in motion for Lucas to be adopted, she loses it. Dawn is furious at Harriet for dredging up her past, and at herself for being a bad mum. At times like this, Dawn is capable of being very rash...

"She's totally floored by the news – Lucas is a huge driving force in her Ryan's there: But will Dawn need more than the support of her best pal?

“Dawn would go pretty far to get her son back!”

wanting to get clean,” explains Olivia. “In fact, she’s doing it more for him than for herself. I don’t think she dared to dream that she could get Lucas back because there’s so much shame and pain attached to the fact she lost him. So, to get her hopes up and then hear he’s being adopted by other people is devastating.”

After the bombshell, Harriet is stunned when Dawn explains she’s going to do whatever it takes to get hold of Lucas – wondering what on earth that means. How serious is Dawn about making this happen?

“She’d go pretty far to get her son back,” warns Olivia. “I think a mother’s instincts are quite strong, and she’s not exactly a rational human being! I’d love Lucas to arrive in Emmerdale because, on a personal level, I’d love to have a little son. It would cause difficulties for Dawn, and that would be really interesting to play.”

We are rooting for Dawn to get through this and to start rebuilding her life, but there are plenty of obstacles ahead for her. However, Olivia tells us that the audience reaction to her troubled alter ego has dramatically changed in recent months.

“Initially people thought Dawn was bringing real negativity to Ross Barton’s life and causing trouble,” she explains.

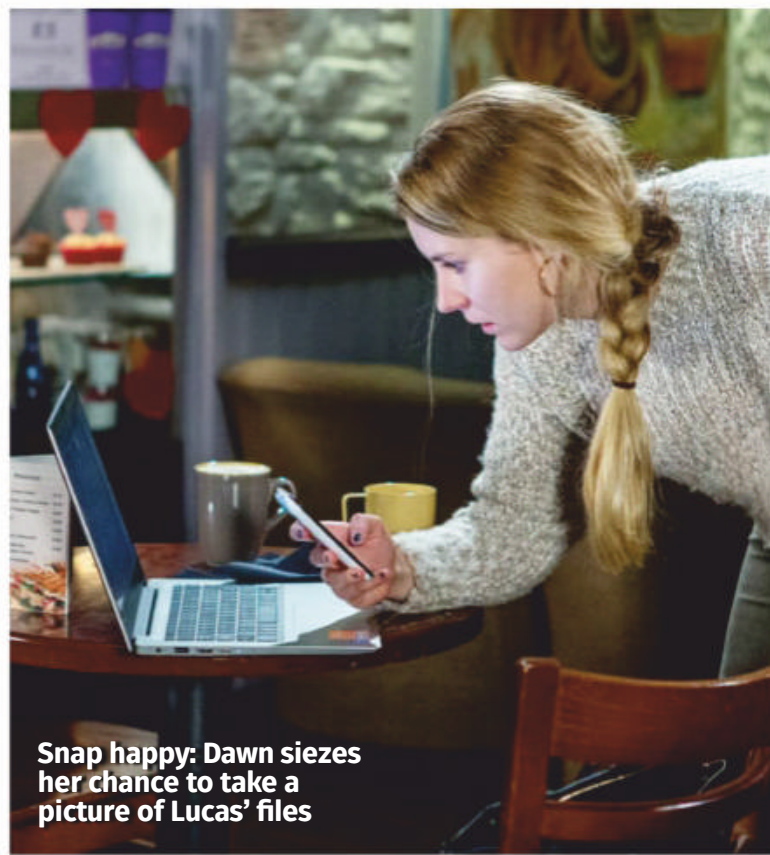

Dawn isn’t exactly a rational human being!

“But I love how it’s played out since then and that people now see she has a good heart. Dawn’s just down on her luck and has a real chance of redemption, so people have warmed to her and realised there are lots of layers to her. I’m very happy with how Emmerdale has developed her character.”

It’s been quite a journey for Olivia, who arrived in the Dales to film just eight episodes and is now a regular character. Does she have any advice for Dawn?

“I would tell her to trust people and to let them in!” she insists. “Dawn’s so defensive, and she keeps knocking people back. If she doesn’t let anybody into her heart, her recovery is going to be more difficult. So, if people want to help her, she needs to let them!”

Olivia is a big admirer of her TV co-star...

While Olivia was delighted to be offered a full-time contract by Emmerdale, she was even more cock-a-hoop when she learned she’d be working with Katherine Dow-Blyton, aka Harriet.

“I was particularly obsessed with This Is England – which she was just amazing in,” says the actress. “I really admire her as an actor and I’m just so lucky to work closely with someone as experienced as Kath. This is my first ever TV role, so I have a lot to learn. Kath’s helped me settle in, and I can watch how she works closely. It’s helped build my confidence.”

Kabin FEVER!

Rita is left boiling in fury this week, when she learns that her sometime business partner Norris has sold her beloved newsagents, the Kabin, right out from under her!

As she vents her spleen at horrified Brian and Cathy – demanding to know how Norris could be so selfish as to sell the shop without even consulting her – poor Brian is obliged to reveal that he and Cathy are the new owners!

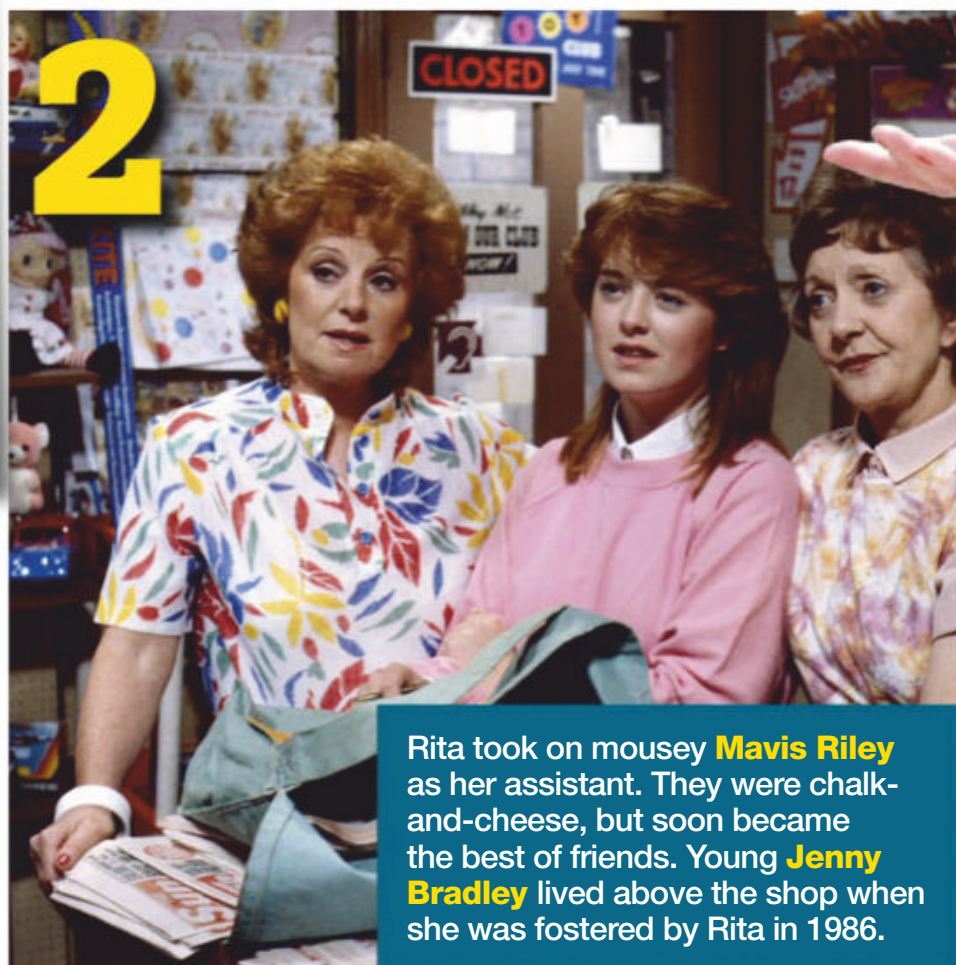

Totally flabbergasted by this turn of events, Rita throws the shop keys on the counter and announces her resignation with immediate effect. She's never going to dirty her hands with another copy of the Weatherfield Gazette – and she's sold her last quarter-pound of Everton mints!

It's the end of an era and no mistake. But as Inside Soap reflects on Rita's nearly 50 years as Weatherfield's newsagent, we wonder if she's not earned her retirement...

Rita's original Kabin was around the corner on Rosamund Street. It was a gloomy-looking place – but always rife with the most salacious gossip!

Rita took on mousey Mavis Riley as her assistant. They were chalk-and-cheese, but soon became the best of friends. Young Jenny Bradley lived above the shop when she was fostered by Rita in 1986.

The old shop was shuttered in 1990...

...when a bigger and better Kabin opened on Coronation Street itself!

6

There was trouble in 2004 when, after giving Chesney Brown a clip round the ear, Rita was blackmailed by his mum Cilla, and then sent to prison!

5

After Mavis moved on, Blanche Hunt had a brief stint as Rita's assistant – but she drove Rita mad! Even mithering Norris Cole seemed a better bet...

7

It was never a quiet life, working at the Kabin. In their time, both Rita and Norris were attacked while on duty.

8

But the biggest disaster came in 2010, when a tram careered off the viaduct and crashed into the Kabin! Rumour has it that Rita was saved only by the iron-strength of her hairspray! And if she survived that, maybe she can cope working alongside Brian and Cathy after all?

Corrie's Paul Foreman
...faces your questions!

Gemma's cocky brother Paul may have only been on the Street a while, but he's already made himself at home! Will Peter be so assured as he faces our readers' questions?

“Who was the first person you told about winning your role on Corrie?”

My mum. She's a big Corrie fan, so she was made up for me. But she had to keep quiet about it for a while, because I knew about the role months before it was announced. She managed to keep it under wraps, even though it killed her to do so!

“What would you say is the best thing about having Dolly-Rose Campbell, aka Gemma, as a screen sister?”

Just that she makes me laugh – she really is a hoot! She'll have the whole cast and crew in hysterics half the time. She's brilliant to work with, which is good as I have a lot of scenes with her. At the moment Gemma and Paul aren't seeing eye to eye, but once that dies down a bit and they start to mend the relationship, there will be nice scenes between us.

“Is Jack P Shepherd like David in real life?”

“You worked a lot with Jack P Shepherd during your initial stint in the show last year. Is he anything like David in real life?”

[Laughs] No, not really. Jack's a great lad, and he's not as troubled as David is. He can be a bit cheeky like David, but in the best possible way. I did that stint

Fits the Bill: Paul and Billy have formed a sweet bond about a year ago, and at the time I had no idea that I'd be back. It was just three days filming, but I enjoyed it – and Jack was lovely.

“If you could play any other Corrie character for a day, who would it be and why?”

That's a tough one. It would have to be one of the comedy characters, like Kirk – he's brilliant. He has some of the best one-liners. But recently he had some heartbreaking stuff as well. You get the best of both worlds here.

“What do you think of Paul and Billy's romance?”

I think it's cute! It was unexpected when my character first came back into it, because Billy and Paul were quite standoffish with each other. But I think it's really sweet, and there is genuine affection there – it's not just Paul using him to get what he can. They're very different, but it's a nice dynamic. The saint and the sinner!

“I still remember you as Darius Fry from Footballers' Wives. What was the most outrageous thing you had to do on that show?"

Cell mates: Peter got to know Jack during their prison scenes last year

Oh wow, on that show there were lots of outrageous things! I was 17 when I started filming – it was my first professional acting job. In one of the very first scenes I had to do, I had to strip naked and get in a swimming pool with Zöe Lucker, who played Tanya Turner! That was very surreal, but amazing for a 17-year-old lad. We had some really great times on that show.

"Are you still in touch with any of your Footballers' Wives co-stars?"

Well, I'm currently sharing a dressing room with Ben Price [aka Nick, who played Conrad Gates in the show]. It was brill coming into Corrie and seeing him, as I'd not seen him for years – not since we filmed Footballers' Wives. It's been really nice catching up with him.

"How are your own football skills?"

They're terrible! I can't kick a ball to save my life, to be honest. Back on the show, they used to have to edit all my bits. If I was doing kick-ups or something, I could only do about two in a row, so they had to edit it all together so it looked like I was good!

"What was the best thing about your stint as Ron in Hollyoaks last year?"

That was great fun, I had a really nice little part – even though I was playing a horrible person! My character was taking advantage of homeless girl Harley Frater and supplying her drugs, so he wasn't very nice. But the Hollyoaks team was really lovely. I worked a lot alongside Mollie Lambert, who played Harley, and she was absolutely cracking.

Hidden Gem: Peter is full of praise for cast mate Dolly-Rose

"What was the best about being on Hollyoaks?"

"Who would you like a plot with on Corrie?"

I'd have to say Roy, because David Neilson is a phenomenal actor. I've had a couple of scenes with him, but it's only been ordering teas from the café and stuff like that. I'd love to have a plot with him – Paul and Roy would be a very unlikely pairing, though!

"Who would be your dream celeb co-star to work with?"

"What does your son Ayden think about his dad being on TV?"

...asks reader Jill Wade from Southampton

To be honest, he's chilled out about it – he's pretty nonplussed! He's seen me on telly in other things, so he's quite used to it. He does get a lot of his friends at school saying that they've seen his dad on telly, so I like to think that he's quite proud of his old man. He watches Corrie sometimes as it's on before his bed time – but he'll have one eye on that, and one eye on his toys!

Chester friends: Co-star Mollie was a highlight of Peter's stint in Hollyoaks

I think I have great ones at the moment in Dolly, and Dan Brocklebank [Billy] too. They're brilliant actors, and they've both made me feel welcome as well, which is nice. It's daunting coming on to this show. My first day I was bricking it – it's proper scary. But you have nice people to work with, and that really makes all the difference.

"Where is your number-one holiday destination?"

I love Cornwall. My parents used to take us when we were little – they actually met down there – and I've been taking my son ever since he was born. When you get good weather, it's just beautiful. I love to surf – I'm not a professional by any means, but I give it a go! I can stand up for a bit before I wipeout.

Jack's hair deal!

THE CORRIE STAR OPENS UP ABOUT HIS RECENT TRANSPLANT...

The National Television Awards is the perfect event to show off a brand-new you, with a brand-new do – and Corrie's Jack P Shepherd (David) did just that at the event held at London's O2 Arena.

After recently undergoing a hair transplant at Crown Clinic in Manchester – where 3,000 hairs were implanted during the procedure – Jack shared his agony at seeing himself on TV and noticing his thinning hair.

"I could see the difference when I watched myself on screen, and in a lift mirror," explained the star. "A few of the make-up girls at Corrie suggested I should have a transplant, and I talked it through with people at work. The hair loss has definitely accelerated in the past year. I've had a few personal issues off-screen, which have been stressful and I'm also an insomniac, which just adds to my stress levels. No one likes to lose their hair, and hopefully I can make a real difference to my appearance, as I'm losing it at the front, where it's noticed most."

Wishing to have more fun with his hair, noticeably sporting an Elvis-style quiff on the red carpet at the award ceremony, Jack added: "I've been working around adults since I was 10, so I've always felt really old – as if I was about 80 years of age! I wouldn't say that I was vain, but I just want to be able to do what I want with my hair. I can't wait to see what it looks like when the transplanted hair is fully grown in a year's time."

EVERYONE LOVES JAMES!

The Dales' James Moore was the man of the moment at the recent NTAs, collecting the gong for Best Newcomer for his portrayal of Ryan Stocks, and joining his Emmerdale co-stars to receive the coveted Best Soap award.

A fan favourite since his 2018 village debut, James joyously stormed the stage via piggyback to pick up his prize, then gave a heart-warming speech.

But while the actor clearly has the support of his cast-mates – including Michelle Hardwick (Vanessa), who gave him a cheeky kiss after his win – it seems there are no bigger fans of James than his parents.

The pair were snapped with him on a recent visit to the Dales' set, and looked proud as punch. Well done, James!

ROOM MATES!

Life as a soap actor has its perks, but if you thought your favourite soaps had their very own dressing room like the stars of Hollywood – think again!

Bunking together in the Street's dressing room No 37 are Julia Goulding (Shona), Georgia Taylor (Toyah) and Bhavna Limbachia (Rana), who were all smiles as they showed their bond in a recent pic.

While next door in No 38, fellas Tristan Gemmill (Robert), Harry Visinoni (Seb) and Daniel Brocklebank (Billy) also posed for a photo – albeit having less fun than the girls, as they jokingly asked them to keep the noise down!

Jungle FEVER

He's fresh from his stint in I'm A Celebrity... Get Me Out Of Here! – and it seems Hollyoaks star Malique Thompson-Dwyer (Prince) has bagged himself his very own queen of the jungle. The Chester actor is reported to have grown close to show winner Harry Redknapp's granddaughter, Molly – with the pair forming a bond while Molly was in Australia to support her grandad. During his time Down Under, Harry became known for his passion for jam roly-poly and his undying love for his wife of 54 years, Sandra – so we can't wait to see what the future might hold for Molly and Malique...

Dem bones: Can Vera find a link between the human remains?

VERA | ITV SUNDAY

SKELETON KEY

DANIEL RYAN GUEST-STARS AS A COLD CASE CAUSES TROUBLE FOR A NOTORIOUS LOCAL FAMILY...

Does the apple ever fall far from the tree? That's one of the questions on Vera's mind in the final case of the detective drama's ninth series this week, when a skeleton is found hidden in a culvert near a club in Whitley Bay. Vera believes that the body is missing person Robbie Marshburn and, given that the club was once run by the Siddens – a family known to the police – questions are asked of their son Alec, who's in the middle of renovating it...

"The Siddens are a criminal family from the north-east, and they have a bit of a history," reveals Daniel Ryan, who plays

Alec. "But he's on the straight and narrow – he's a property developer. When a skeleton is found, of course that brings Vera in, and then that's linked to another body that's found elsewhere, of somebody who used to work for the family..."

Naturally, as someone who's been trying hard to distance himself from his criminal family, having Vera on his case is the last thing Alec wants.

"She's like a pitbull, she just will not leave him alone!" chuckles Dan. "Anything that even loosely links the family, or certainly Alec, to the case, and she's down on him like a ton of bricks. He's insistent that it's got nothing to do with him – but at lot of the time he doesn't react well to this pestering detective!"

As a fan of Vera, Dan was delighted to land a guest spot in the series – and he tells Inside TV that this wasn't his first attempt to play opposite Brenda Blethyn...

"I actually auditioned to be Vera's sidekick back when it first started!" he reveals. "So when that happens, you spend years going, 'I'm not in this at all! Why have they not invited me to be in it?! They've asked me a couple of times and I've not been able to do it, but then the opportunity came where I was able to, plus it's a director, Declan O'Dwyer, who I've worked with before. He rang me up and said, 'Are you free? We'll make it work, we'll fit it in'."

As it happens, at the same time he was filming his guest spot on Vera, Dan was also working on ITV's upcoming drama The Bay, in which he plays a detective. He tells us it was fun to be able to see both sides of the investigation process at the same time.

"It was great going from a police officer in one drama

ADE ADEPITAN HOPES TO CHANGE HOW WE LOOK AT AFRICA IN A NEW SERIES...

AFRICA WITH ADE ADEPITAN | BBC2 SUNDAY

The presentation of Africa on TV often falls into two categories: images of war-torn countries, or people struggling to feed themselves. Presenter Ade Adepitan – who was born in Nigeria before moving to the UK aged three – is keen to challenge those stereotypes in this new four-part series, where he explores the many countries making up the world's second-largest continent. He wants to show us how Africa is changing – and how it might look in the future. Here, Ade tells us more about what to expect...

Can you tell us what you were hoping to show in the making of this series?

I'm not sure I went in there with a preconceived idea of what I was looking for, I was hoping really to change the narrative on Africa and preconceptions people have had in the past. I wanted to show that there's more to Africa than war and famine and poverty. There's the beauty of it, the complexity of the people, the diversity of the continent. A lot of people see Africa as just one place, when it's over 50 countries.

Dark past: Gorée was once an outpost for the slave trade

Which of those countries surprised you the most?

The one that left me in awe at its potential was the Democratic Republic of the Congo – its beauty, its vastness, its resources, its people... They've just got this vibrancy and this amazing spirit. The overriding tone I was getting throughout my journey in Africa is that people there are tired of war and conflict and corruption – they want something better.

We see in one episode that some of the places you visited aren't so wheelchair-accessible. How much of a problem did that pose?

I always knew it was going to be difficult – but do you know what? Using the London Underground is difficult! I had

MAN LIKE MOBEEN | BBC3 THURSDAY

MAN DOWN?

GUZ KHAN ON WHY THINGS MIGHT BE TOUGH FOR MOBEEN IN THE COMEDY'S SECOND SERIES...

Back in 2017, when Brit comedian Guz Khan launched Man Like Mobeen – about a young Muslim in Small Heath raising his teenage sister and trying to leave his criminal past behind him – it got a warm reception from viewers. In fact, it even reached people well outside of its target demographic, as Guz tells us when we call him for a chat...

"I was filming a project with Idris Elba in the summer, in a posh part of London," he recalls. "I felt like the houses were worth my entire area in the West Midlands! This woman popped out of her place and went, 'Hello, Guz Khan!' I thought she was the police at first, I was a bit worried, and she said, 'I love Man Like Mobeen, it's so funny' – then she started to be properly prepared and use the right equipment, make sure I had the right tyres. But there were times when I made mistakes – like in DRC pushing through Goma, which had had a volcanic eruption and all the roads were lava-ridden. It was really rough, horrible terrain, and I took the wrong wheels out – it was like I'd decided to go out in a pair of stilettos!

verbatim dropping bars from the show!"

No doubt she'll be among the many viewers pleased to see the show return to BBC3 this week, with a four-part series that's being released as a box set. And Guz tells us there may be tough times ahead for his character...

"I think it's important for me as a writer to show that in a tough, working-class area, if you're up to no good at one stage it can be hard to turn your back on that," he shares. "So we'll see Mobeen follow more of that track in these episodes. We'll definitely see him stumble – maybe even fall..."

SITUATION COMEDY

JOSH WIDDICOMBE AND JAMES ACASTER PUT IMAGINARY EVENTS TO THE TEST IN A NEW SERIES...

It's not often that things we talk about in our downtime become the central idea behind a TV show – otherwise we'd be seeing a lot more programmes about what we're having for lunch! But Josh Widdicombe's love of posing hypothetical situations to his pals is what inspired this new series.

"Asking hypothetical questions has been the meat of my conversation for about two decades," Josh tells Inside TV. "One night, I was like, 'You could do this as a comedy entertainment show' – and before you know it, you're reading an autocue!"

Each week, Josh will be joined by two teams of comics who must think on their feet to come up with a hilarious way of handling a potentially problematic scenario, while James Acaster lays down the rules and handles the technicalities.

"It was really fun to be the awkward weirdo doing the points," grins James. "But I've learned that if you're too harsh, you spoil the game. Better to give people points

Theory test:
The panel has to think fast

and celebrate what they've done than to penalise them and make it competitive."

Episode one features turns from Rob Beckett, Liza Tarbuck, Tom Allen and Jessica Knappett, and Josh and James reveal that the guests didn't entirely know what lay ahead...

"It's one of those things that sounds more scary than it actually is," points out Josh.

"I think guests who had been on were telling future guests about it," adds James. "By the end of the series, people turned up going, 'I've heard there's a lot of improv on this – is there a lot of improv on this?!'"

SMALL FORTUNE | ITV 7PM

Mini adventures

The best things come in small packages, don't they? That's not intended as a comment on the relative merits of Dermot O'Leary (5ft 8in, if Google is to be believed), but a statement of our enthusiasm for this new gameshow in which contestants take part in games on a very small scale in order to win a large cash prize.

"It looks so simple," says Dermot. "People will scream, 'I can do this! I can't get my head around why they can't!' But you need to have all different skills to play this. It's the steady of your hand, focus, co-ordination, coolness under pressure, nerve and courage... Everyone got excited when they saw the sets – for me, part of the fun is that boyish excitement when you see them!"

GREAT BRITISH CAR JOURNEYS | Channel 4 8PM

Regional variations

In this new series, former All Creatures Great And Small co-stars Christopher Timothy and Peter Davison aim to do for vintage cars and roads what Tim West and Prunella Scales did for canals. Peter and Christopher will be hopping into a Morgan 4/4 – the world's oldest make of car that's still in production – and using period travel guides for inspiration. In tonight's opener, they're making their way from Inverness to the Isle of Skye, using single track 'military' roads to get across Scotland. And what could be a more appropriate way to finish their journey than a voyage on the world's oldest car ferry?

SAFE HARBOUR | BBC4 9PM

We're still so haunted by Ewen Leslie's performance as the creepy, controlling Alistair in BBC1's The Cry last year that it's taking us a little while to adjust to him playing a more agreeable character in this Aussie miniseries. The drama follows five friends on a sailing holiday who spot a broken-down ship in the distance filled with asylum seekers. Will they put themselves at risk by towing the boat to safety, or will they alert the authorities?

CHRIS RAMSEY: JUST HAPPY... | Comedy Central 10PM

...To Get Out Of The House is the full title, but as you can see we stood no chance of getting all of that on one line. This stand-up special sees Chris back at the Metro Radio Arena in Newcastle for a special homecoming gig.

TAGGART | Drama 9PM

It's a double-helping of the much-missed Glaswegian crime drama tonight, starting with the brutal death of a college principal in a lift shaft. There's evidence that the lift's workings had been tampered with – but who's responsible?

LES MISÉRABLES | BBC1 9PM

Revolutionary road

There are tough decisions to be made on the barricades in tonight's finale, as Enjolras warns the revolutionaries that they've likely reached the endgame, and that most of them can expect to be killed that day – leaving them with the decision of whether to sacrifice their lives for their cause or leave to continue the fight another day.

Similar thoughts are running through Cosette's head, as she sees the army marching towards the barricades and is terrified at the prospect of losing Marius. However, the revolutionaries receive crucial back-up at the last minute courtesy of Jean Valjean. That also brings him unexpectedly face-to-face with Javert – but will it be their final meeting?

CALL THE MIDWIFE | BBC1 8PM

If you've ever wondered what Gogglebox 1964 might look like, tonight's episode is about as close as we're likely to get, as the residents of Nonnatus share their opinions on a new TV series: Doctor Who. (Sister Monica Joan is a fan, Nurse Crane not so much.) Away from the small screen, there's an unusual scenario at clinic when a mother and daughter are both pregnant at the same time. "What a support you must be to one another!" trills Miss Higgins, failing to notice the clearly icy relationship between the two. It falls to the ever-sensible Sister Julianne to try to bring them back together...

A SLOW ODYSSEY: THE GREAT WALL OF CHINA | BBC4 8PM

The Slow TV strand returns to take us on another fantastic journey: travelling along the Great Wall of China, starting in the Yellow Sea near Beijing and finishing up 2500km away in the Gobi Desert. As ever, there is no commentary and as much of the sound as possible is authentically captured from the locations, while there are intermittent captions to help us identify the most interesting bits.

HAWAII FIVE-O | Sky One 9PM

McGarrett gets an unwelcome glimpse at life on the other side of the law tonight when he becomes a suspect in a kidnapping case led by NCIS. And when he intervenes in the investigation, he ends up getting himself arrested...

WOLF HALL | Drama 10PM

As excellent as Claire Foy is in The Crown, we're still not sure she's ever been better than she was as a magnificently smug Anne Boleyn in this miniseries. Tonight, Anne attempts to determine if she has an ally in "Cruemwell".

BUILDING THE CHANNEL TUNNEL: 25 YEARS ON | Channel 5 9PM

Tunnel vision

Well, this makes us feel old: the Chunnel is a quarter of a century! This two-parter, marking the 25th anniversary of the world's longest undersea tunnel, takes a look at the project from its inception through to opening on 6 May 1994, via its largely challenging construction.

The privately financed venture meant many businesses were crossing fingers that it would prove to be a success, while the British and French engineering teams were busy having their own punt on who'd be first to reach the breakthrough point under the English Channel.

Judith Hann – yes, from Tomorrow's World! Now we're feeling even older – narrates, revealing how tunnellers flouted a fags-and-booze ban with some pretty ingenious tricks...

RUSH | Alibi 5PM

It's a banner week for fans of Aussie drama, with Safe Harbour starting on Saturday night and now police drama Rush airing at 5pm every weeknight on Alibi. This one follows the members of the Tactical Response Unit in Melbourne, both at work and in their personal lives, and boasts a few recognisable faces including Nicole da Silva, aka Wentworth Prison's Franky Doyle. In the opening episode, Sergeant 'Josh' Joshua's temper gets the better of him.

SHIPWRECKED | E4 9PM

The battle for island supremacy is well underway, and both the Tigers and the Sharks are keen to earn the latest newcomers' loyalty. But there's a twist: the two new arrivals must compete for the right to pick an island, and the loser goes home.

TRUE DETECTIVE | Sky Atlantic 9PM

We're pleased to see that after some of the second season's misfires, True Detective seems to have its act together once again in this current run. Now, what twists and surprises can we expect tonight from Hays' latest reflections on the case?

MARTIN CLUNES: ISLANDS OF AMERICA | ITV 9PM

Isle be there

Following his stints on the islands of Britain and Australia, Martin Clunes now takes on the myriad land masses around America's shoreline. Hawaii is tonight's first port of call, and Martin arrives just as one of the most devastating eruptions in its history hits the headlines. Lava from Kilauea on the Big Island has destroyed hundreds of homes, and we meet the people relying on the help of other islanders to survive.

Things cool down a tad as Martin next visits Alaska. On the island of Kodiak, he's going on a bear hunt – for the world's biggest brown bear, no less. And after a six-hour wait, the actor is rewarded with sightings of eight of the furies, including two cubs. Cute. But they could also rip your head clean off.

Back in 2002, the Beeb's 100 Greatest Britons drew quite the list. Robbie Williams was 77th, with Bono at 86 – incidentally, not even British – both of them ahead of Walter Raleigh and Tim Berners-Lee. Sure. This time, an exhaustive selection process has whittled down the options and, lo, battling it out to be the-very-best-of-all-time are Nelson Mandela, Ernest Shackleton, Alan Turing, David Bowie, Martin Luther King Jr and Muhammad Ali, with one more to be decided as we went to press. But the winner is your choice, and will be announced live at the end of the show. Vote online at bbc.co.uk/icons

LIVING THE DREAM | SkyOne 9PM

Hurrah! Kissimmee Sunshine RV Park has been nominated in the ‘Best RV Park’ category in the RV Park Of The Year awards (what other categories could they possibly have, we wonder?). Mal is dreaming of having the opportunity to thank his family, God and the Academy, but ends up winding up his residents in his efforts to impress the judges, whom he’s sure are secretly lurking in the park to appraise him.

CHARMED | E4 8PM

In the wake of Trip’s untimely death, Mel is worried about Niko’s safety. She searches for a way to use the Power of Three to protect her girlfriend, but the solution that she comes up with is so drastic that it could change everything...

RICH KIDS GO SKINT | 5STAR 9PM

The series in which privileged young people are thrown into the lives of their less well-off peers returns for a third run. Well-heeled Maria moves in with Mohammed, Becky and their two children in Croydon – will it be an eye-opener?

CLEANING UP | ITV 9PM

Transfer window

Now Black Mirror has shown us that interactive TV drama is a thing, our hope for the future is that all remotes will come with an 'ARE YOU SURE ABOUT THIS?' button, which viewers can press any time they sense a character might be about to make a bad decision. And if such a thing already existed, Inside TV would've hammered it this week when Sam accepts £50,000 to make an investment for Swanny, and pays it into her daughters' accounts to cover her tracks. Oh, Sam. No.

Being so close to this glossy other world, Sam's getting a taste for it – and Dave's starting to notice the change in her. But a visit from her landlady reminds Sam that's she's still in a very financially precarious situation...

Group decision

PURE | Channel 4 10PM

After her awkward tryst with Amber, Marnie begins this week in a sex addicts' meeting, but hearing the stories from the other attendees makes it clear that whatever her problem is, it's not sex addiction. The experience isn't a complete waste of time, though, because she connects with recovering porn addict Charlie, who's keen to help her in her mission to make sense of her own mind. Marnie also decides that it would be good to make amends with Amber, so she decides to visit her at work (where's that 'ARE YOU SURE ABOUT THIS?' button again?) to explain herself...

DAS BOOT | Sky Atlantic 9PM

That's 'the boat', for the non-German-speaking types among you. You'll probably recognise the title from the 1981 Oscar-nominated film about a German U-boat crew during the Battle of the Atlantic of World War II, and this eight-part series serves as a sequel to it, picking up the story nine months on from the end of the movie. It's now 1942, and despite the Allies breaking the U-boats' dominance at sea, the crew of U-612 is getting ready for its maiden voyage.

GREY'S ANATOMY | Sky Witness 9PM

Meredith and her fellow medics return from their mid-season hiatus and the storm is still raging across Seattle, leading to a power cut at Grey Sloan Memorial. Meanwhile, the emotional storm also continues for Owen, Amelia and Teddy...

STATION 19 | Sky Witness 10PM

Season one's finale left the fate of several characters up in the air, and we'd just like to say that if tonight's season two premiere reveals that Travis has died, we will be furious. (We love Travis, can you tell?) Tune in to find out who lives!

DEATH IN PARADISE | BBC1 9PM

Something fishy

Now obviously we don't want to put ourselves out of a job, but given that the DIP cast themselves revealed to Inside TV that this two-part special was their favourite episode to film, we can't recommended tonight's show any more highly.

When festival queen Tiana is murdered while alone on a boat, minutes before she's due to arrive at the annual fete in the small fishing community of Belle Mer, Jack and Florence are stumped. Could a missing loaf of bread hold a crumb of evidence? (Sorry.) As an employer of Tiana, Patrice is drawn into the case – as is her boyfriend Harrison, mother Louise and friend Nelly. And just when the case looks close to being solved, events take a sudden, shocking turn...

DON'T Miss!

Gift of life

HOSPITAL | BBC2 9PM

Even for the Royal Liverpool, today's an unusual one: there are three transplants scheduled. An organ matching Pamela's tissue type has been donated, and live donor Collette is giving one of her kidneys to her brother. Over in the Women's Hospital is Lauren, who's 33 weeks pregnant with twins Albi and Bobby. Albi has the fatal condition anencephaly, and medics have to balance his parents' wish to donate his heart valves and liver cells with Lauren and Bobby's welfare. It's an emotional roller coaster that leaves you agog at the amazingness of the workforce. Gawd bless the NHS.

BURDEN OF TRUTH | Universal 9PM

In the first season of this legal drama, hotshot lawyer Joanna Hanley returned to her hometown to defend a pharmaceutical company and ended up re-examining where her loyalties lay.

Now she's back in the city, working for a new firm and going by Joanna Chang (her mother's maiden name) when the case of an internet privacy activist lands on her desk and upends her life – again.

YOUNG SHELDON | E4 8.30PM

Sheldon picks a psychology class for his elective, and his professor instructs him to observe his family dynamics at Thanksgiving. He won't be short of material, because George Sr's new job offer sparks a major argument...

MADAM SECRETARY | Sky Witness 9PM

Elizabeth and Jay attempt to keep peace between Serbia and Kosovo in tonight's episode, after a mass grave is discovered in Serbia, dating back to the Kosovo War. Meanwhile, Henry has an odd meeting with Gordon Becker.

EUROVISION: YOU DECIDE 2019 | BBC2 7.30PM

Pick of the pops

Even though we've not managed to finish on the left-hand side of the scoreboard at Eurovision of late, we still think it was right to put the choosing of our entry back into the hands of the UK public. But our biggest criticism of the song selection process over the last three years has been that we're often forced to choose between a competent singer and a decent song, and wished we could switch around who was singing what.

Well, we're edging slightly closer to that ideal, as this year's contest, hosted once again by Mel Giedroyc and 2015 champ Måns Zelmerlöw, adopts a duel format, with three songs being performed by two singers each. We like Sweet Lies the most, but who will sing it best tonight?

SECRET SCOTLAND | Channel 5 8PM

Proud Scot Susan Calman has a confession to make: she's driven past many of Scotland's most famous attractions without ever stopping to have a proper look. But no more! In this five-part series, Susan will be giving us her personal guided tour of the best that Scotland has to offer, and that journey begins tonight in Edinburgh. As a veteran of the annual Fringe Festival, Susan's been here a few times before, but now she's getting access to some hidden highlights – including being present for the firing of the one o'clock gun at Edinburgh Castle, and sailing under the Forth Bridge.

ONE DAY AT A TIME | Netflix

It might not be the show on Netflix with the most buzz, but for our money this sitcom about a Cuban-American family might quietly be the best show on the streaming service. It's reliably hilarious, it tackles important issues in a thoughtful and sensitive manner, and it's got a majorly catchy theme tune performed by Gloria Estefan – what's not to love? Season three, which drops today, promises more parenting pitfalls and a hint of new romance for Penelope.

NEW AMSTERDAM | Amazon Prime Video

This US medical drama follows Dr Max Goodwin (Ryan Eggold from The Blacklist), the newest medical director of one of America's oldest – and most under-resourced – public hospitals. Can he find a way to return it to its former glory?

THE DEFIANT ONES | BBC4 10PM

When Beats Electronics was sold to Apple for $3 billion, Dr Dre and Jimmy Iovine became part of one of the biggest deals in music history. This six-part documentary explores the very different routes the two men took to the top of the music biz.

IN and OUT

We spin soap's revolving door...

STEVE HALLIWELL (Zak Dingle, Emmerdale)

IN We've been missing Zak's presence in the Dales over the past few months, and actor Steve Halliwell has revealed why he was forced to take an extended break. The 64-year-old star had a pacemaker fitted in September, and he has been allowing himself time to recover. "I'm back at work in a few weeks," he told The Sun newspaper recently. "I'm feeling fitter than ever. It's done me the world of good and I feel fantastic. I've got some great storylines coming up, and I can't wait to get stuck in to filming." Spring

SHAUNA O'GRADY (Beverly Robinson, Neighbours)

IN It's been almost 30 years since Paul's stepmother Beverly was in Erinsborough, back when she was married to Jim. Dr Bev was originally played by Lisa Armitage between 1987 and 1989, before Shauna O'Grady took over the role until 1990. Beverly eventually left Ramsay Street when her marriage to Jim broke down, but she did pop up for a very brief cameo in 2005. So what brings her back after all these years – and could it perhaps involve Paul? Later this year

CLAIRE KING (Kim Tate, Emmerdale)

IN We're feeling very impatient for Kim's comeback, after her all-too-brief reappearance last October – but we'll be rewarded soon! Claire King was recently asked by a Twitter follower as to exactly when we can expect to see Kim again, and the star tweeted in reply: "On screen end Feb/beginning of March". Will Kim be seeking revenge on Faith, who was responsible for the villain's spectacular balcony fall, before Kim was carted back to prison? Claire has indicated that there's a lot more drama to come on that score, so watch this space! Spring

THE EX FILES!

What are the one-time stars of soap up to now?

ROXY MOVES ON

She may just have made her TV return on E4's Celebrity Coach Trip, following her disastrous stint in the Celebrity Big Brother house last year, but there's more bad news for Roxanne Pallett (the Dales' Jo Sugden) – she's reportedly split from her fiancé of a year, Lee Walton.

HARRY'S REACTION

Ex-EastEnders Harry Reid has responded to the news that his character Ben Mitchell has been recast, with Max Bowden taking on the role of Phil's son (see p14). "I'm not upset at all – it's life and you move on," Harry told Metro. "I'm disappointed, because I love playing Ben – it was a real pleasure as an actor to play a character like that. It's a shame I won't get to continue his journey, but it's the name of the game." Harry also sent a supportive tweet to his successor: "Mate, just wanted to wish you the best of luck," he wrote. "Recasting can be hard on us, but they will grow to love you! Enjoy Ben as much as I did! Welcome to the clan... I anoint you, Ben the 6th."

NO RETURN FOR CINDY!

Ben Mitchell's mother Kathy may have risen from the grave, but his brother's ex-wife Cindy definitely won't be resurrected – according to actress Michelle Collins, who played the role from 1988 to 1998. "It's just too long now," she reckons. "Apart from the fact that I'm dead! I still haven't shaken Cindy off, after all these years. I think it would spoil it if I went back."

ACCIDENTAL HEROES

by Danielle Steel

A flight takes off heading to San Francisco, but it soon becomes clear that a person aboard the plane is planning a horrific act. Can the rest of the passengers work together in order to halt a tragedy?

STAR CHOICE

Corrie's James Burrows (Ali)

"I love Band Of Brothers. It has an incredible cast – American actors, British actors. It must've taken years and years to film, and I thought everything was played out so well. What's nice about it, too, is that there are a lot of actors who are quite big now, but weren't back then..."

HITS & MISSES!

WHAT'S HIT THE BULLSEYE RECENTLY – AND WHAT'S FALLEN WIDE OF THE MARK?

We've been wanging on for ages about how underused Adam Barlow is – and this scene says it all. Honestly, Corrie – if you don't need him, we can certainly offer him a position here. Or two.

Clearly, little Cherry hasn't gone hungry while being passed from pillar to post. She's nearly outgrown Kat's twins!

Simon Gregson has skilfully upgraded Steve's 'Another Woman Is Having My Baby' face to the ultimate 'My Teenage Daughter Is Having A Baby' face.

We hate our January diet so much, we're even jealous of little Isaac. Look at him. Drink in one hand, shoving bread in his gob with the other. Living the dream!

24 hours in the life of a soap star, as modelled for us by EastEnders' Tilly Keeper.

Bob's descent into sleeping rough is a cautionary tale of what a destructive force pride can be. It's shown how, one small slip at a time – even while surrounded by friends and family – someone can completely fall out of the world. Brenda's tough-love response was both brutal and moving. Great work from the writers, and stars Tony Audenshaw and Lesley Dunlop.

Baby Zack in Corrie does an absolutely blinding impression of former Weatherfield 'favourite' Reg Holdsworth.

A small detail we liked: Debbie blags old Sharma & Sharma boxes for her knick-knacks when she moves house.

We were impressed by Karen's enthusiastic approach to eating a sausage. No wonder Mitch keeps coming back for more.

Nice work, Simone. Grabbing a random snog from Sylver as you strut out of Hollyoaks. Bonus points if it wasn't in the script.

Will there ever be a realistic office at Home Farm? Graham and Priya look like they work in the Space Year 2419. We haven't seen a set like that since Blake's 7 was axed.

Well done Corrie for being honest that there's not enough room at the Platt house, meaning Sarah and Gary have to sleep on lilos. Unlike the Slaters' gaff in Walford – which we're expected to believe can sleep 16!
